Second Death As Impure Food on Mainland Traced

Passing of Mrs. Annie Bigwood Investigated While Authorities Continue Inquiry Into Earlier Death of Mrs. Elwood Dunbar in Burnaby; Police Say None of Baking Powder Under Investigation Sold in Victoria

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Deaths of two women—possibly caused by food poisoning—today spurred police and a food products distributor in twin efforts to recall several hundred cans of impure baking powder.

Belief expressed by Coroner John Whitbread that Mrs. Annie Bigwood's death may have been caused by eating food in which the powder was mixed came while provincial analysts at Victoria sought to discover exact cause of the death of Mrs. Elwood Dunbar in Burnaby municipality last Thursday.

Preliminary examination indicated Mrs. Dunbar died of food poisoning shortly after eating food baked with the powder in question, distributed by a co-operative-sponsored concern. The inquest on Mrs. Dunbar's death was adjourned at Burnaby this morning after formal identification of the body, as authorities awaited results of the Victoria analysis, not expected for several days.

TRACES OF POISON
Contents of Mrs. Dunbar's stomach were analyzed Saturday by Dr. E. Burne of the Provincial Mental Hospital at Esquimalt. Dr. Burne said he had found traces of poison similar to that found in baking powder samples by Inspector J. F. C. Vance of the Vancouver police bureau of science.

Illness of a score more persons in Burnaby municipality between here and New Westminster was blamed by police on food poisoning. Supplies of the baking powder were recalled in Vancouver, New Westminster and Burnaby on Saturday. Other provincial points have been advised by Chief Constable W. W. Foster of the Vancouver city police force to restrain sale of the product until all cans of the alleged poison shipment have been recalled.

Inspector Vance said the baking powder apparently contained sodium silico-fluoride—sometimes used as an insecticide.

While police in Victoria have been advised from Vancouver to confiscate all consignments of "Plenty For All" baking powder in Victoria stores, it was learned this morning wholesalers here have not handled the product. The warnings followed the deaths of two Burnaby women and general illness in several homes where quantities of the baking powder were found.

Provincial Police, meanwhile, have issued a general warning by radio to all divisional points advising them to confiscate any of the baking powder found in interior centres. Contents of the first victim's stomach have arrived here for analysis by the provincial analyst.

Goering Soon To Visit Poland

Canadian Press from Havas
Warsaw, Jan. 18.—General Hermann Goering will come to Poland during the latter part of next month, it was learned today. The German Air Minister's trip will be unofficial, but he is expected to confer with Polish government leaders.

Victorians Enjoy Thrills of Winter

Snow Attracts Thousands to Hills For Sleighing and Skiing; Children Have Greatest Fun

Week-end weather may have worked a hardship on those who had to drive delivery trucks or engage in other forms of outdoor work, but it afforded no end of healthy fun in the way of sleighing for Victoria children who infrequently have sufficient snow to enjoy this popular sport.

From basements and attic children pulled dust-covered sleighs while others persuaded fathers and elder brothers to put hastily built ones

THREE FOUND CUT TO DEATH

Husband and Father in Serious Condition at Fort St. John, B.C.

Fort St. John, B.C., Jan. 18.—Terribly slashed with a razor, the bodies of Mrs. Stephen A. Delorie and her two young children were found in their home here today. The husband and father was in serious condition suffering from razor cuts which police said apparently were self-inflicted.

Fort St. John is about 350 miles northwest of Edmonton on the Peace River. It is about thirty miles west of the British Columbia-Alberta boundary.

British Columbia provincial police were investigating the slayings of Mrs. Delorie and the children, aged about two and four.

Delorie, about thirty years old, came to this district in 1928 from Nova Scotia and took up a homestead about ten miles from here, near Taylor.

French Warship Stated Bombed

Canadian Press via Havas
Paris, Jan. 18.—An unidentified plane bombed a French destroyer in the Mediterranean, authorized naval circles disclosed tonight. Six bombs were dropped in the immediate vicinity of the warship, but none of them scored a direct hit, it was asserted. Dispatches reaching here indicated the destroyer was the 2,441-ton Maille Breze.

Pope Suffers But Talks With Prelates

Vatican City, Jan. 18.—Damp, neuragic weather settled over the Vatican today, aggravating Pope Pius's suffering.

The Holy Father carried on with the schedule he had set for himself, prelates said, drawing on his nerve and feeling of spiritual exaltation for energy.

Propped up in bed to ease his shortness of breath, the Pope was said to have spent a painful night.

Auto Strike Peace Talk Fails

Alfred P. Sloan Jr. (upper left), president of the General Motors Corporation, is leader of the employers' side in the present auto plant dispute in the United States, and William S. Knudsen (upper right), executive vice-president, is his chief aide. The lower picture gives a glimpse of a group of sit-down strikers who referred to themselves as the Fisher Body Literary, Leisure and Self-improvement Club. Several were sitting in auto seats in the Flint, Michigan, plant.

Associated Press
Detroit, Jan. 18.—Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, announced today, after a brief meeting with high General Motors officials, that "the conference is off."

Martin made his statement as he and five associates left the conference room in the General Motors building, where negotiations to end widespread strikes were to have opened at 11 a.m.

NO COMMENTS
The General Motors executive designated as conferees in the negotiations, headed by William S. Knudsen, executive vice-president, were in the room only five minutes. Knudsen and his associates, John Thomas Smith, general counsel, and Donaldson Brown, chairman of the finance committee, refused to comment when they emerged from the room.

Martin's terse statement indicated that General Motors had refused to (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Associated Press
Los Angeles, Jan. 18.—Harold Nathan leader in the search for the kidnapper-slayer of Charles Mattson, conferred today with federal agents here, but was silent as to the purpose of his sudden visit to Los Angeles.

Nathan traveled by train from Tacoma to Portland yesterday, and then took a plane to Los Angeles, but whether this presaged a "break" in the hunt for the killer of the 16-year-old Tacoma boy officers of the Federal Bureau of Investigation declined to speculate.

FINGERPRINTS STUDIED
Police said the "usual check" was being made on the fingerprints and description of two men picked up by officers here for questioning in connection with the kidnapping.

No definite conclusion had been reached yet concerning them, he said.

Police here declined to comment on a report that the identity of the kidnapper was known to federal agents by comparison of fingerprints found at Tacoma.

TWO MEN QUESTIONED
Of the two men held for questioning, one Joseph Mitchell, thirty-five, a vagrant, was in the Culver City jail, after refusing to answer certain questions asked him by police. He was found carrying a canvas knapsack in which was a boy's sweater and several newspapers detailing the kidnapping-slaying.

INQUIRY INTO HOME ORDERED

Sloan Names Commissioner to Investigate Mainland Institution

Attorney-General Gordon Sloan today announced an investigation had been ordered by the provincial government into the administration of the Home for the Friendless, a private institution with homes in Burnaby and West Summerland which take care of pensioners and others who have no homes.

H. I. Bird, Vancouver lawyer, has been appointed by government order to conduct the investigation under the terms of the Public Inquiries Act. He is expected to announce the first hearing shortly.

The inquiry was launched, the Attorney-General indicated, after investigation by provincial police of reports reaching his department. The formal order for the inquiry states it has come to the knowledge of the Attorney-General that "a serious situation exists" in the conduct and administration of the homes. Mr. Bird is empowered to inquire into the administration and the "treatment accorded to the inmates."

TWO TRAPPERS ARE MISSING

Island Men Two Weeks Out of Port Alberni Unreported

Fears for the safety of two trappers who left Port Alberni two weeks ago and have since been unreported, were aroused by radio advices received at Provincial Police headquarters this morning.

The men's names were Dunn and Stockand, their first names being unknown. They were headed for Effingham Inlet, Barkley Sound, and are now long overdue.

It is feared they may have suffered in recent adverse weather. Headquarters here has instructed the police motor launch No. 7 to call at Effingham and assist in the search.

Colder Weather Is Anticipated

Return of cold weather, but not much snow, was the forecast for the next twenty-four hours, given out at the Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill this morning.

Victoria has had nine inches of snow since last Wednesday, most of it having fallen over the week-end. A steady thaw took place all day yesterday, but another light fall of snow occurred this morning.

The lowest temperature recorded in the standard screen at Gonzales this morning was thirty degrees. By noon, under the influence of the sunshine, it had risen to thirty-three degrees. The next two evenings may bring ten degrees of frost, with the wind from the north and the northeast.

B.C. Lumber Trade With Britain Up

B.C. Shipments to Britain Last Year Reach 666,000,000 Board Feet; Province's Waterborne Trade Sets New Record, Totalling Over Billion Feet Exclusive of Domestic Business; Empire Countries Take Over 80 Per Cent

A 50 per cent gain in business with the United Kingdom, more than doubling of South Africa's purchases and a substantial improvement in the Chinese trade sent British Columbia's waterborne lumber exports to world points up to a new high mark of 1,642,951,936 board feet in 1936, according to final figures for the year received by the provincial government today from the Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau.

The total compared with 701,765,000 board feet shipped overseas in 1935 and 830,729,555 board feet in 1934. The gain over last year was 250,000,000 board feet, or more than 30 per cent.

Great Britain alone took 666,272,315 feet for an increase of 211,000,000 feet over the 1934 and 1935 shipments which were slightly in excess of 455,000,000 feet.

HUNDRED DIE IN TRAIN FIRE

Feud Between Smugglers Blamed For Disaster Near Canton

Associated Press
Canton, China, Jan. 18.—Unconfirmed but widely accepted reports today attributed Sunday's holocaust aboard a speeding Chinese express train to a feud between rival gangs of smugglers.

More than 100 persons were believed killed in the fire, and today rescue workers searched along fifteen miles of track for the bodies of panicky victims who threw themselves from the blazing Hongkong-Kanton express while it still was moving rapidly.

The new reports said two rival smuggling gangs were aboard the train, with considerable amounts of unidentified contraband.

SET FIRE TO BUNDLES
They began fighting on the speeding train and one gang set fire to the other's contraband, it was reported. The fire, fanned by the speed of the train itself, leaped quickly through the third-class coaches.

Many victims were women and children. Some eighty-five bodies, burned beyond recognition, were recovered.

Vancouver Police Arrest 185 Men On Gaming Charge

Group Found in Brunswick Sports Club Remanded in Police Court; Steward of Club Is Charged and Equipment Impounded

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Arrested in a Sunday night police raid on premises occupied by the Brunswick Sports Club in the downtown business section here, 185 men appeared in police court today and were remanded until next week for hearing on charges of being inmates of a gaming house.

Most of the men spent the night in jail since each was required to place his own bail and many did not have the necessary $10.

Danny Williamson, said to be steward of the club, was charged as keeper of a gaming house. His bail was set at $500.

Melbourne Fire Loss $2,500,000

Canadian Press
Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 18.—On the hottest day of the Australian summer a fire broke out at the Victoria docks here today, spreading over nearly five acres of wooden buildings and causing losses estimated at $2,500,000.

Explosion was prevented by a change in the wind, which diverted flames from a customs shed containing gun cotton. The flames seriously menaced four vessels tied up at the docks, including the British steamship Port Wellington, which caught fire. It was cut adrift and the blaze extinguished in midstream.

At Ontario Reformatory 700 Youthful Convicts Are Locked in Cells Today With Armed Guards Nearby While Workmen Start to Repair Damage Done During Disturbance Yesterday in Which Buildings Damaged, Bedding Burned and Other Destruction Wrought; Six Recaptured Today

ROAMED OVER FARM

With virtually the entire prison population out of control for seven hours, estimates of the number who escaped ran as high as 150 at one time. The great majority of these, however, merely roamed over the prison property and were rounded up when police reinforcements arrived.

LOCKED IN CELLS
The 700 more convicts, most of whom are under twenty-five years of age, locked in cells late last night when 200 guards and police put down the uprising were given breakfast in their cells. Only a few trustees were permitted to go about their work on the 800-acre farm. Prison workshops did not open.

Plastered with mud from their unsuccessful race towards freedom over soggy country last night, ten prisoners were held in cells at the Guelph police station.

WORST SINCE 1932
Not since the Kingston Penitentiary outbreak in October, 1932, has a riot flared so ominously behind the walls of any penal institution in the province.

Nearly all of the 700 convicts housed in the reformatory broke loose in a Sunday demonstration that lasted from mid-afternoon till 10 o'clock before it was quieted by guards and police.

Windows were smashed and smoke rolled from the reformatory into a dreary, rainy night as the screaming prisoners, bent on destruction, milled about the dormitories. Scores of scaled roofs and scurried away in the darkness.

The rioters surged through dormitories, chapel, library, kitchen, hospital and recreation room. Furniture was smashed. Matches were set to bed clothing and mattresses and flaming masses were tossed through broken windows.

Many Acclamations In Municipal Posts

Nominations Show Reeves William Crouch and R. R. Taylor Unopposed; No Election in Oak Bay; Candidates For All Vacancies in Esquimalt; Police Plebiscite Only Issue in Saanich

Absence of an election in Oak Bay owing to lack of opposition for Reeve R. R. Taylor and all other retiring incumbents seeking re-election; return by acclamation for Reeve William Crouch, four councillors and two school trustees in Saanich, and a keen contest in Esquimalt, where all vacancies will be contested, were the prospects for the municipal election campaign indicated today when nominations closed at 2 o'clock.

In Esquimalt, the only scene of a reeve's fight, Alex. Lockley, the present incumbent, will be opposed by Councillor Fred Eaton, nominee of the Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association, who has just completed his first term on the council. The only appearance either of the candidates will make will be at a public meeting in the municipal hall, when they will speak from the same platform.

Chief interest in the Saanich election will be the police debate. On Saturday, the ratepayers will vote on the question of whether or not they desire provincial police to take over policing of the municipality. SUPPORTS AFFIRMATIVE

Supporting the affirmative side of the issue during the campaign will be Councillor A. G. Lambriek, who was returned by acclamation to his Ward Three council seat, and who is opposing the present incumbent, A. E. Scaife, for the police commission vacancy.

M. Scaife, a veteran among Saanich municipal affairs, who has been a commissioner for many years, is defending the present force. If he is tackled on the question during the campaign Reeve Crouch is also expected to come to the defence of the municipal department.

The Saanich councillors returned by acclamation are: Councillors John Watson, Ward One; Edward C. Warren, Ward Two; A. G. Lambriek, Ward Three, and Leslie "Sammy" Ward Seven. Mr. Peasmore has just completed his first term on the council and the ratepayers' satisfaction with (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Owing to its many varieties, the Garnet is often mistaken for other gems. ## Premier Hertzog, Urging Parliament Pass Aliens Bill, Says Increase in Jewish Population Causing Anxiety

Canadian Press

Capetown, South Africa, Jan. 18.—Prime Minister J. B. M. Hertzog, speaking on the Aliens Bill in the House of Assembly, today declared the number of Jews in South Africa had reached a figure at which they had "begun to cause anxiety in wide circles."

This, he added, had already begun to take the form of strong, anti-Semitic feeling, and it was, therefore, necessary to check immigration "before there is bloodshed."

He declared the suggested protective measures, while effective, would not be persecution of the Jews.

The Aliens Bill adopts the principle that every one is an alien except the Jewish minority, and it was, therefore, the authorities to decide as to the suitability of immigrants.

Dr. D. F. Malan, Nationalist Party leader, at the outset of the debate declared trade and commerce were passing "entirely into the hands of the Jewish minority."

General Jan C. Smuts, Minister of Justice, speaking in the debate, pleaded that South Africa should "welcome all good workmen, Jew or otherwise."

The arrival in South Africa of 650 Jews on one ship a few weeks ago is said to have given rise to the prominent part the Jewish "question" has been given in the debate.

FOURTH VICTIM OF CRASH DIES

E. E. Spencer of Chicago Succumbs in Los Angeles of Injuries in Plane Wreck

Associated Press

Tacoma, Jan. 17.—The kidnapper of Charles Mattson remained free today, seven days after the crash of the plane in which he was flying.

The body of the kidnapped Mattson was found in the snow six miles south of Everett, Wash.

At the end of a week of searching, officers held no prisoners known to be seriously suspected of the crime, and apparently not a single new clue had been uncovered in the northwest in forty-eight hours.

The monotonous "no comment" attitude of Federal Bureau of Investigation agents continued in force while their activities centred on trails which could only be guessed. State police continued to hold a force of nearly 500 men near Everett, where an intensive search of the countryside was pushed through its seventh day and several persons were questioned. There were no arrests, however.

BETWEEN LAKES

The state officers and local officials were known to be centring their hunt in an area east of the Pacific Highway between Silver Lake, Beverly Lake, Lowell and the Snohomish River. A few federal agents also remained in the district.

There, the federal agents worked through Sunday at their downtown offices.

Harold Nathan, assistant chief of the bureau and director of the search, left Tacoma by train late Saturday for an unannounced destination. Earl Connelly, his assistant, denied Nathan was bound for San Francisco and asserted, "the trip has nothing to do with the case anyhow."

TWO QUESTIONED

At Seattle, Vachang Tavdgulidze, twenty-nine, a Chinese-born Russian, and Mrs. Ruth Graham, thirty-four, were arrested while driving an automobile with altered license plates.

Police said they were questioned about the kidnapping "as a matter of routine."

Dr. W. W. Mattson, father of the boy kidnapped December 27, prepared today to return to his normal practice of medicine, asserting, "My greatest desire is to be left alone."

Euler Is Now In New Zealand

Canadian Press

Wellington, N.Z., Jan. 18.—Hon. D. Euler, Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, arrived here today, en route to Australia. He was welcomed by Hon. D. G. Sullivan, Minister of Industries and Commerce.

Mr. Euler stated he did not propose to discuss the New Zealand-Canada trade agreement, which will expire in September unless New Zealand raises the subject.

He is scheduled to sail for Sydney in a few days.

Hon. Walter Nash, New Zealand Minister of Finance, is now in London and hopes to return home via Canada and deal directly on trade matters with the Canadian ministers at Ottawa.

Bennett Would Limit Debate

Conservative Leader Tells Commons Abidation Discussion Not Needed

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—Conservative Leader Bennett believes "no good purpose" can be served by discussing in the Canadian Parliament the views which led up to the abdication of King Edward VIII.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—Conservative Leader Bennett, arriving back in Ottawa from his Empire tour at noon today, said he would lead off the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne in the House of Commons this afternoon.

He stepped off the train amid the cheers of followers who had assembled on the station platform to welcome him on his return.

Following the moving and seconding of the address by junior members of the government side, expected to occupy the first hour and a half of today's sitting, the Conservative leader was scheduled to follow the usual custom and review the government's conduct and proposed legislation.

It was suggested that in view of the fact that Mr. Bennett reached the capital much later than had been expected, he might ask for a day to prepare his speech.

"I'm not prepared, but I'll go on just the same," said Mr. Bennett to the suggestion that he might ask for an adjournment.

A Canadian Press dispatch from Halifax told how Mr. Bennett, prepared to discuss the present affairs and future prospects of any nation of the British Commonwealth except Canada, landed there yesterday from the steamship Montclair and left for Ottawa.

Smiling and fit, the former Premier displayed a sun tan acquired in the course of his voyage to Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and England. The Montclair's trip across from Greenock to Halifax was rough, so rough the Opposition Leader was forced to spend two days in bed.

RESERVED FOR SPEECH

Any statement on Canadian or Empire affairs of concern to Canada he was reserving for Parliament, Mr. Bennett said.

He had no comment on defence questions as far as Canada was concerned. His only reference to the problem was an assertion Great Britain's unemployment situation had brightened because of armament building.

Australia and New Zealand apparently had solved their financial difficulties and were going ahead rapidly, Mr. Bennett said.

In South Africa he had been impressed by finding people engaged in war on one another less than forty years ago, now striving for peace. He praised efforts of Premier Hertzog and the former Prime Minister, General Jan C. Smuts, in that direction.

"The Commonwealth nations appreciate more than ever before their fellowship," he said. They were pinning their hopes on peace to preserve democracy, and without co-operation with one another they would "fall a prize to some aggressor somewhere."

VOLUNTEERS NOW SPANISH CITIZENS

Rome, Jan. 18.—Official Italian circles expressed indignation today at reports the Spanish government at Valencia had naturalized foreign volunteers now fighting for Madrid.

Official Fascist sources said such a decree had been published in the Valencia official gazette.

Virginia Gayda, authoritative Fascist writer, said in a Giornale d'Italia editorial:

"It is plain this naturalization is only a farce."

"It is destined to cover human contraband going to Spain, and forestall the open and clear-cut proposal of Italy and Germany to remove all foreigners participating in the war."

Prisoners said the trouble arose over poor quality of food and because they were not allowed delivery of parcels at Christmas.

C. G. Neelands, deputy provincial secretary, denied dissatisfaction with quality and quantity of the food caused the disorder.

Launching his investigation even before daybreak, he called the disturbance an outbreak of "youthful exuberance."

START OF TROUBLE

Prisoners told newspapermen that trouble had been brewing several weeks. At lunch time yesterday they said, twenty-five prisoners refused to accept food on their trays and stalked out of the lunch room to their dormitories, starting the trouble.

At least 100 of the convicts escaped from second-story windows, dropping to the kitchen roof and then into the courtyard, to be at liberty for a short time.

U.S. Methodist Federation of Social Service Criticizes Attitude

Associated Press

New York, Jan. 18.—In a statement sent to clergymen and laymen throughout the United States yesterday, the Methodist Federation for Social Service asserted recent "pronouncements from Vatican City" confirmed an "analysis" of the federation which the Vatican had "thrown in its lot" with Hitler, Mussolini and Gen. Francisco Franco, Spanish insurgent leader.

Dr. Harry P. Ward of the Union Theological Seminary, secretary of the federation, said the organization did not "presume" to speak officially for the Methodist Episcopal Church, but that the statement represented the views of "over two thousand" Methodists, including eight bishops.

POLITICAL POLICIES

The statement emphasized the federation was not attacking the Catholic Church or its religious policies, but the political policies of the Vatican.

"The latest press statement from the Vatican," the federation reported, "on its anti-Red campaign does not mention atheism. It speaks in 'foreign' policy. On political issues the Vatican has taken its stand. It is with Franco, Hitler, Mussolini and Japan, just as certainly as though it had signed an agreement or entered the understandings between those forces."

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Dr. E. Stanley Jones, missionary who carried the Methodist Episcopal gospel through Asia and America, declared yesterday: "Religion is at the judgment bar throughout the world."

He professed to see a new social order in the making and warned it would be shaped by either Communists or Fascists unless aroused Christians assumed command.

"The outcasts of India, sixty million of them, are revolting from Hinduism and seeking a new spiritual home," he said in an address at a mass meeting in Chicago's skyscraper temple.

Ontario Combed For Escaped Convicts

Library books were piled on the floor and burned. Pieces of tables and chairs were fed to the flames.

OFFICER WOUNDED

Sergeant A. T. Maguire, chief custodian officer, was reported to have been mobbed by forty prisoners. He suffered severe cut when struck over the head.

Provincial Constable L. T. Keeler was struck with a baseball bat, but was not seriously hurt.

One convict suffered a fracture of one ankle when he jumped from the kitchen roof in attempting to escape.

TEAR GAS USED

A few tear gas bombs were tossed by police before the disturbance finally was quelled and the prisoners herded into cells.

Damage to the institution was unofficially placed today as high as $200,000.

At the height of the disturbance thirteen influenza patients in the reformatory hospital were taken to safety when smoke and flames threatened them with suffocation.

The seventy-five guards of the institution, the full complement, carried no arms but used their practice. Police had guns and truncheons, but did not use them.

PARTITION WRECKED

Prisoners demolished a partition in one of the dormitories, and marched on, yelling and swinging clubs, smashing lights and windows, until they got as far as the main grill, which kept them from the administrative offices.

Prisoners were marched through the pouring rain to cars near the building, where they were placed under guard. Men raced about the grounds and through the buildings, turning the place into such turmoil, it was difficult to tell the prisoners from the officials as they clashed.

When reformatory officials saw the havoc caused they had most of their forces withdrawn to the administrative quarters, leaving the prisoners practically in complete charge of other parts of the institution for a time.

The reformatory buildings are a mile west of the city limits of Guelph, a city of 21,000. The main buildings, including the huge grey prison itself, are 500 yards off the highway.

Most of the 700 prisoners at the reformatory take some part in looking after the grounds and the farm lands attached to the institution. No prisoners sentenced to terms longer than two years are sent to the reformatory.

FOOD COMPLAINTS

Prisoners said the trouble arose over poor quality of food and because they were not allowed delivery of parcels at Christmas.

C. G. Neelands, deputy provincial secretary, denied dissatisfaction with quality and quantity of the food caused the disorder.

Launching his investigation even before daybreak, he called the disturbance an outbreak of "youthful exuberance."

CIVIC SERVICE HELD SUNDAY

Faith and Patience Main
Requisites in Government,
Rev. J. R. Craig Says

A message of faith and patience in a time of stress and difficulty was presented by the Rev. J. R. Craig in his address at the annual civic service at Christ Church Cathedral yesterday.

The service was attended by civic and municipal representatives in addition to the regular congregation. Mr. Craig took his text from Matthew 24:45.

The duty of all governments, he said, lay in the development of that character faith and patience were the two chief requisites. The former should embrace faith in God, faith in one's self and faith in one's fellow men.

The world had not to be turned upside down, he continued. It had to be turned right-side up.

MAKE OWN CONTRIBUTION

Mr. Craig paid a tribute to the pioneers of Vancouver Island whose faith and patience had given this part of the country a magnificent heritage. The task of the present generation was to put their contribution on the foundations the pioneers had laid. Each generation, he said, made its own contribution in its own way and the guiding force should be that all were working towards the consummation of a civilization in which peace, happiness and brotherhood were the dominant factors.

The service was opened with the hymn, "Now Thank We All Our God."

SERVICE EXPLAINED

Rev. Dr. G. B. Switzer explained the purpose of the service and led the assembly in prayer.

Psalm 122, "I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me," followed. Rev. Dr. A. S. Inrie read the lesson, Corinthians xii 12-27.

Rev. Edwin Bracher led the congregation in prayer before the hymn, "Lord of Heaven and Earth and Ocean," was sung.

During the hymn, "From Ocean Unto Ocean," a collection was taken for the Unemployed Citizens' Recreation Rooms and the John Howard Society.

The service closed with the National Anthem and a blessing by the Very Rev. C. S. Quinlan, Dean of Columbia.

RELIEF PLANS FOR PRAIRIES

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 18.—Problems of relief financing in the west will be the subject of conferences this week among Premier John Bracken of Manitoba, Premier W. J. Patterson of Saskatchewan and Hon. C. A. Dunning, Dominion Finance Minister.

Possibility was seen the discussions might extend to western finances in general, but the details of the conferences were not disclosed. The prairie premiers arrived here yesterday.

Free Four From Snowbound Camp

One Dead Before Party
Rescued From Desert
Mine in Nevada

Associated Press
Las Vegas, Nev., Jan. 18.—Three women and a man who had been snowbound eighteen days in a desert mine camp with the body of a second man who had frozen to death were brought here yesterday evening by rescuers.

The four survivors suffered from shock and exposure. At the same time, as the Rocky Mountain region's latest blizzard was abating, another rescue expedition struggled through deep drifts to take supplies to thirty-six sheepherders snowbound with their flocks on the Arizona-Utah border.

Victim-hero of the three-week isolation in the mine camp 125 miles from here in the frozen desert was Fred Miller, forty-five. He froze to death December 31 while trying to bring aid to the others in his party.

TOES FROZEN

Two of the women had frozen toes—Mrs. Lee Fremma, one of the mine operator, and Doris Dunn, negro cook. Mrs. James Poe suffered only from exposure, but her husband had a frozen toe which it was feared today might have to be amputated.

None of the four was reported in serious condition.

Prattman, who had located the snowbound mine from the air, led the rescuers to the mine early last week. The rescue was delayed by a blizzard, deep snowdrifts and shortage of gasoline for trucks.

The relief expedition which reached the thirty-six sheepherders on the Arizona-Utah border reported the men and their 20,000 sheep now apparently were well fortified against storms.

Rt. Rev. E. A. Knox Dies in England

Former Bishop of Manchester
Was Widely-known
Figure

London, Jan. 18.—The Church of England lost one of its most forceful evangelical champions of the last half century through the death Saturday of Rt. Rev. E. A. Knox at the age of eighty-nine.

From 1903 to 1921 he ruled the populous diocese of Manchester and was notable not only for the immense energy devoted to his ordinary episcopal work but the sturdy manner in which he supported evangelical teaching both in church and school.

His letters to the press were deemed to have largely influenced the rejection of the new prayer book by the House of Commons some years ago.

One of his sons, Father Ronald Knox, is a noted writer on Roman Catholic doctrine. Originally in Anglican orders, he often assisted his father at the Blackpool gatherings. He now is Catholic chaplain at Oxford University. Another son, Rev. W. L. Knox, is prominent in the Anglo-Catholic movement at Cambridge University, and is also a prominent writer.

Another son and a daughter are also noted writers. E. V. Knox, whose pen name is "Evie," is the well-known editor of Punch, while Mrs. Winifred Frances Peck, wife of the permanent secretary of the Scottish Education Department, is the author of many novels.

Born in 1847, Bishop Knox was the son of a clergyman, Rev. G. Knox, and both of his wives were daughters of clergymen. He first married Ellen Penelope French, daughter of the Bishop of Lahore, India, and after her death married Ethel Marty Newton, whose father was vicar of Redditch, England.

Educated at Oxford, he was ordained in 1872 and advanced rapidly from post to post in the church. From 1894 to 1903 he was Bishop of Coventry.

Groups Join In Entertainment

Members of the Victoria Dickens Fellowship and the Royal Society of St. George joined together on Friday evening to enjoy a special entertainment programme featuring two humorous plays which presented Dickens characters in modern settings.

The plays, both written by Ernest P. Chester, British writer who came here from Hollywood, were "Dickens in Hollywood," showing what happened when Dickens and a number of his characters sought to enter the movies, and "The Christmas Murder Mystery," a phantasy already presented at the Christmas banquet of the Dickens Fellowship.

Other items on the programme included a ten-minute scene from one of Dickens's plays, violin and piano selections by Mrs. Marian Thornborrow and Mrs. Lucy Bosward, and pianoforte duets by the Masse Isabier.

H. L. Penahan, president of the Dickens group, and Mrs. Bertha Parsons, newly elected president of the Royal Society of St. George, jointly presided.

Split Threatens Valencia Ministry

Associated Press Dispatch
at Half-year Point in Spanish Civil War Tells of Divisions Between Factions in Loyalist Government

An ever-tightening censorship hangs over Valencia, seat of the Spanish government, at the half-year point of the civil war between Fascist insurgents and the Socialist regime. The following Associated Press story, based on reliable and uncensored reports filtering through to the Franco-Spanish border, gives a revealing insight into the state of the government, six months from July 17, the day the war began.

Port Bou, Spain, Jan. 17.—Mounting internal difficulties continue to menace solidarity of the Spanish leftist Popular Front, it is indicated by reliable reports.

Foundations of the Socialist-Communist-Syndicalist-Left Republican coalition formed for election purposes a year ago are reported tottering after a series of inter-party squabbles. A fall is threatened despite government efforts of consolidation against the insurgents.

A new conflict is developing in an unexpected quarter between two Communist groups. Adherents to the type of Communism now apparent in Soviet Russia have ousted the POUm (Partido Obrero Unificado Marxista), whose followers adhere to Trotsky teachings. After a Catalan regional government after a campaign in which POUm members were branded as "agents of Hitler."

STRIFE RENEWED
Common necessity caused a lessening of friction between the four parties when civil war broke out last July, but factional strife appeared again when the war developed into a long and bitter campaign.

Left Republicans went into eclipse as the struggle became one for supremacy between extremist elements. There was no place for Liberals in the sharply defined war between Communism and Fascism.

Syndicalist and Socialist divergencies developed into bitter enmity, which has been, and still is, the greatest apparent threat to unity of the Left Popular Front.

CLASH EXPECTED
An open clash between these two major workers' groups, each claiming more than 1,000,000 followers, still is regarded as probable before the civil war ends.

The crisis precipitated between the two Communist political groups threw Catalan regional government officials into a furor, and the POUm, which claims some 200,000 members, was filled with resentment, seeking vengeance for its loss of power in Spain's greatest extremist stronghold.

A clash between these two factions is regarded as not improbable, and one between the Syndicalists and Socialists with far more serious consequences is reported to appear inevitable unless the government performs a miracle of compromise.

There is mounting unrest among farm workers with the failure of syndicates to improve working conditions on a scale which had been expected. Doubts and distrust on the part of workers in general are reported growing as the "proletarian paradise" promised by union heads was delayed in materializing.

Gen. Franco Says Aims Peaceful

Spanish Insurgent Leader
Gives Interview to Havas
Correspondent

By JEAN D'HOSPITAL
Havas Correspondent
Salamanca, Spain, Jan. 18.—General Francisco Franco stressed the "peaceful aims" of his insurrection in an interview with Havas yesterday and vigorously denied charges of German infiltration in Morocco.

The insurgent commander declared it is "not we who will endanger the peace of Europe," and proclaimed "we shall bring peace to the country."

The interview, which lasted thirty minutes, took place in the former episcopal audience room in which the general has his headquarters. Large oil paintings of a religious character still adorn the walls of the chamber.

"There are no German soldiers in Spain," Franco said at the outset.

"Neither yesterday nor today has there been any article of national territory being involved in the struggle as far as the Nationalist (insurgent) government is concerned."

"We shall struggle—until the final victory—to drive from our soil the evil forces of Communism."

INFLUENZA IS OF MILD TYPE

Epidemic Spreads Through
North of Prairie Provinces;
Schools Closed

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 18.—An epidemic of a mild type of influenza is spreading through the northern sections of the prairie provinces. Southern areas, reports indicate, are touched but lightly.

From Edmonton, where visits of children to hospitals have been prohibited in an effort to prevent the outbreak from reaching epidemic proportions, the disease was traced through northern Saskatchewan and northern Manitoba.

In Alberta, towns hardest hit were Camrose and Millet, in the Edmonton district. Schools were closed at both places, with three-quarters of Millet's population reported ill. Nearly every home around Camrose had from one to four cases.

Saskatoon reported 3,000 pupils absent from school with hundreds of adults stricken with influenza. Rosenthal authorities said 50 per cent of school students were absent from classes. Nearly every family in Radcliffe had one case or more.

IN MANITOBA
Isolated cases were reported from Manitoba's sparsely-populated north country. Winnipeg, in the south, appeared hardest hit of all southern area cities. Authorities stressed the numerous cases reported had not reached the proportions of an epidemic.

In Regina, comparatively few cases have been recorded and a similar situation prevailed in Calgary. No deaths from the disease have been reported in any stricken area.

Eldersley, Sask., health authorities had an epidemic of measles to worry about. About 200 miles northeast of Saskatoon, Eldersley reported 50 per cent of its families had measles.

Youth Admits He Robbed Bank

Spokane Detective Says
Robert King, Wounded,
Confessed Tacoma Crime

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 18.—Detective Arthur Aikman announced the youthful hospital prisoner who had a bullet removed from his arm Saturday confessed yesterday the daring daylight holdup of a Tacoma bank.

Aikman said the youth, who registered at the hospital as Robert King, 21, dropped his belligerent attitude and admitted he was a seventeen-year-old Tacoma high school student.

Aikman said the youth gave his real name as Robert Meyer, and said his mother was a western Washington school teacher.

He said his father was dead and he balked, Aikman said, at giving his mother's name. He said he lived with an uncle, near whose house he abandoned a blood-stained stolen automobile which he used in his getaway from the Lincoln branch of the Puget Sound National Bank in Tacoma.

Aikman said the young prisoner's only explanation of last Wednesday's $3,000 holdup was, "I needed the money."

Time Asked For Social Credit

Aberhart Says Alberta
Ready to Go Forward, But
Months Needed

Canadian Press
Calgary, Jan. 18.—Alberta has more than a "ray of hope" in its plans to solve present-day problems, Premier William Aberhart declared yesterday in an address at the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute.

"Alberta," he said, "was prepared to go forward," to press on as rapidly as possible.

"I look across at the governments of the other provinces, and I find no ray of hope in any of them."

He described the "enthusiastic" caucus of government members and the Social Credit League convention in Edmonton last week.

"Some people are grumbling a little; somewhat impatiently, but your representatives are certainly considering the good of all and not their own selfish interest. What more could a province want?"

"If you did not have them, who else would you call to take their place?"

TWO-YEAR TEST
"Surely this government (elected August 22, 1935) should be given at least two years before bitter criticism is declared against it," the Premier continued. "There are other governments in Canada which have been in power as long as we have who are receiving very little criticism, although they have done absolutely nothing to implement their promises."

"I am not begging off at all, but I do ask that a reasonable time be given to your representatives and your government."

"What will you do if some of these times they walk out on us and tell us to get some others? Do you think the Liberals can do more? So think twice on this matter."

Agrarian Group Loses Members

Canadian Press
Calgary, Jan. 18.—Membership in the various branches of the United Farmers of Alberta slumped almost 50 per cent in 1936, according to a report just obtained at the head office here.

At the end of December, 1936, the farm organization membership totaled 3,822. This included the United Farmers of Alberta, the United Farm Women of Alberta, junior branch, life members, and "members at large." A year ago the total was 10,020.

When the U.F.A. was at its peak, in 1921, the membership was 37,721. That year a U.F.A. government was elected, holding office until its defeat by the Social Credit Party of Premier Aberhart in 1935.

The U.F.A. twenty-ninth annual convention will open here tomorrow and continue until Friday.

At this convention final decision on the status of the organization in politics is expected to be reached.

A financial report issued today showed the U.F.A. with a surplus of $2,809.41 at November 30, 1936. Revenue for the year amounted to $15,679.36 and expenditures $12,869.95. Assets totaled $13,110.55.

"Tom's got a job... and...we're going to get married!"

SOONER or later this moment comes in every parent's life. Your little baby, your rollicking tomboy, grows into a sweet young woman. And what a tug at your heart strings when the break in the family circle comes. But at least you're happy to know she will have the protection and support of strong young arms.

So you're glad Tom has a job; glad that industry has been able to provide a place for this eager, intelligent young man, and give him the opportunity to make a home of his own and carve out a path to success.

Many a Canadian family gets its start in just this way with the automotive industry. Thousands are employed in automotive plants and distributing and selling organizations. Thousands more earn their livings in plants that make the materials used in building motor cars, and in the making and handling of food products, clothing, furniture, purchased by automotive workers.

The money put in circulation reaches the farmer, fisherman, miner, lumberman, railway worker. So the true value of the automotive industry to Canada is measured by the number of Canadians it puts to work. That is why we need a strong, prosperous automotive industry in Canada.

AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRIES OF CANADA

For Instance, take
Our Own Industry
Over $22,000,000.00 was paid by the Automobile Manufacturers in salaries and wages during 1936. Yet this huge sum is dwarfed by the wages paid in the factories that produce the materials and parts that go into a completed car, which wages are built in large part on our purchases. Other Canadian industries—glass, steel, rubber, textile, paint, chemical; to name a few—are stimulated by the manufacture and sale of Canadian-built cars. The prosperity of their employees is likewise affected as is that of those who supply their individual living needs.

The Fight Continues

SPAIN'S INSURGENT LEADER.
General Francisco Franco, chatted with newspaper correspondents for half an hour yesterday at Salamanca and vigorously denied charges of German infiltration in Morocco. He is also reported to have laid particular emphasis on the "peaceful aims" of his followers, declaring that it is "not who will endanger the peace of Europe" but who will "bring peace to the country."

What the thousands of non-combatants in Spain who have lost all they possessed and must continue to go in fear for their lives think about the "peaceful aims" of General Franco can be left to the imagination. The internal struggle is going its bloody way with the loyalist government still putting up a stubborn defence in the various fighting areas. By the time some semblance of reason is permitted to prevail, however, a good deal of the country will be in such a state of shambles that years will be required to repair the material damage, while a still greater task will be that of cooling off tempers.

As the blood-letting goes on the international non-intervention committee strives to isolate the conflict and is considering the revival of a plan for some form of blockade. The difficulty of getting effective action in this regard lies in the reluctance of certain major European powers to line up in support of the British plan. This is how matters stand at present: Great Britain has enforced a firm ban on volunteers and asked other nations to follow her lead. France and Russia have agreed in principle but have declined to act until similar action is taken by Italy and Germany, the two powers that are supposed to be formulating a joint policy. The non-intervention committee's plan is said to be based on the four following points:

1. Neutral observers in all Spanish ports.
2. Issuance of clearance papers at neutral ports for all shipping bound for Spain.
3. A neutral six-power naval patrol to check the papers of vessels in Spanish waters.
4. Neutral commissioners at highway and railroad points of entry on the French and Portuguese borders.

The ordinary individual surely will find nothing in the foregoing points to which effect could not be given without delay. The combatant forces in Spain, of course, want to get as much help, in the form of men and materials, as possible and as quickly as possible. All of which, however, not only would make for an expansion of military activity within the peninsula itself but also increase the risk of external complications. It is this latter possibility that is causing uneasiness in the various European capitals.

A Big Banker's Advice

APPROACHING THE TARIFF
problem in the light of the present world business boom, Editor Heyer of The B.C. Financial News points to the counsel of Sir John Aird, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and one of the country's biggest business men.

To avoid or put a serious brake on business activity, now assuming bomb proportions, Sir John at the annual meeting of his bank the other day recommended "world-wide tariff revision" in order to protect the consuming masses against possibly sharp increases in living costs and in order to prevent large government expenditures still necessary for public relief from mounting so high as to nullify efforts to achieve budgetary balances.

Sir John thus says in effect that a general lowering of tariffs would tend by the degree of its decrease to prevent a commodity price rise with its consequent influence on the domestic cost of living. If Canada did this, it would be a contribution to international trade recovery and would probably benefit Canada as much as any other nation.

That Trade Pact

R. T. HON. WALTER RUNCIMAN, president of Britain's Board of Trade, is in the United States, ostensibly on holiday, but actually to discuss an Anglo-American trade pact and other matters. As he is next door, as it were, it is expected he will call in at Ottawa on his way home and discuss Canada's business agreement with the United Kingdom—now in its fifth and last year of operation.

It will be recalled that at the opening sessions of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa in 1932, Premier Stanley Baldwin made it quite clear that any pact which might be negotiated could not be regarded as an instrument that would in any way tie Britain's hands in the matter of her business dealings with foreign countries. In the last five years, of course, Britain has entered into important commercial contracts with several non-empire governments and, apparently, more are to follow.

In industrial circles in the United Kingdom there is a feeling that Britain got the worst of the bargain in her 1932 deal with Canada. Last Saturday, Mr. P. J. H. Hannon, member of Parliament for Moseley (Birmingham), and president of the National Union of Manufacturers, told The London Times that "the operation of the Ottawa agreements has become from year to year an increasing degree of abounding advantage to the Canadian export trade, but at the same time has restricted seriously the competitive power of British manufacturers in the Canadian market. Such a lopsided arrangement demands revision and rearrangement."

Mr. Hannon visited Canada last year and spoke in many centres. As a result of his observations, he says he was pained at the "obvious indifference and misunderstanding which obtained in Canadian trade circles on preferential treatment which might be expected for British goods throughout the Dominion." He knows, he declares, that Canadian statesmen themselves are perturbed at this and he believes that in time Canada will see the justice of treating Britain better.

Until Mr. Runciman has had a chat with officials at Ottawa—presuming he does—there would be no point in speculating on the subject. The cold fact stands out, however, and the member of Parliament for Moseley obviously is quite aware of it, that in the last twelve months Canada sold the United Kingdom goods of a value greater than three times as much in value as those she took from the United Kingdom. This is the reason why British industrialists are calling the pact a lopsided one.

The late government at Ottawa took office in the summer of 1930 with the extraordinary belief that Canada could do most of the selling to other countries and little of the buying. The inexorable economic law gives that theory the lie direct. The Canadian people passed their judgment on the Bennett business philosophy when they went to the polls five years afterward.

Say It With Proverbs

THERE ARE STILL PEOPLE ON earth who salt their speech with proverbs, and say a great deal briefly. The Jabo tribe of Liberia, West Africa, is one of those proverb-speaking groups.

Several hundred Jabo maxims, collected and published by a Yale anthropologist, arouse suspicion that practically anything that needs to be said can be said with a proverb. These Africans rely heavily on proverbs in conducting law cases. They use proverbs to smooth away embarrassing social situations. They teach and warn by coming or quoting maxims. In the collection of Jabo proverbs, which has now appeared in print and translation by the efforts of Dr. George Herzog of Yale, can be discovered keen comments on human nature.

"One weighs the article in his hand before buying," says the Jabo native shrewdly, meaning that he will not be hurried into some decision. "If you have no child you will not give advice about children," says another native, showing that "old maid's children" and inexperienced advice in general are taken lightly in Africa as in other countries.

Sometimes in an important court discussion, Dr. Herzog found, some Jabo members become impatient and demand speedy punishment of the criminal. But that is a signal for another Jabo proverb: "A patient person has all the wealth in the world." Presumably when the excited jurists hear that, they are calmed by its wisdom.

West Africa has a quaint way of expressing finality. One proverb says: "Crocodile says, if jaws have snapped, they have snapped—that's all."

The wide range of applicability of Jabo proverbs, and the ease with which a proverb can be turned subtly to mean its opposite, suggest to Dr. Herzog that "in Africa the use of proverbs may become an intricate and artistic intellectual exercise for the adept."

Dr. Herzog was assisted in his proverb collecting by a native of the tribe, Charles G. Blooah, who has received university education at the University of Chicago. When the two anthropologists departed from Liberia, one of Mr. Blooah's relatives made him a farewell speech in proverbs, one after the other:

"A man does not perish abroad. Only in one's own country do his deeds become great. On the palm-tree that yields nuts the birds will tarry."

All of which the anthropologists understood to mean that Mr. Blooah, being an adventurous man, would return some day; that he would be most honored among his own people, and that, as birds appreciate a tree bearing rich fruit, so they appreciated the learning he had acquired abroad.

A Princely Gift

ANDREW MELLON, WHO MADE hundreds of millions of dollars out of the aluminum industry, has offered his great art collection to the United States Government. His offer ranks him with the world's princely givers as competent judges place a value of something like $40,000,000 on the collection which includes many masterpieces of the old masters. These paintings comprise a heritage of beauty and loveliness, which becoming the property of the government and housed in a gallery to be built in Washington, D.C., will be free to all.

Notes

War does not become more dreadful. Like ignorance, it merely seems worse because we know better.

Hitler's theory seems to be that a "busted flush" is equal to four aces if he shoves in enough chips.

The outstanding feature of a party of Hollywood notables seems to be the punch, of which three or four are usually thrown.

The midwestern pharmacist who has been missing for several days may have been just out at a party where they needed a good mixer.

A manufacturer is developing a rear-engine motor car. If someone will shift the steering wheel, back-seat drivers will call it a complete victory.

Loose Ends

Out in Utah they are preserving the oldest inhabitants, compared to whom we are still young—the movies grow up—Canadians have a right to know about it—and lying falls to low depths.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OLDEST INHABITANT

THE UNITED STATES government is busy constructing a museum out in the middle of the Utah bad lands to house the remains of its earliest inhabitants, the great dinosaur family. These creatures lived long before 100,000,000 years ago, the scientists say, and lasted until 60,000,000 years ago, when they suddenly vanished after being the leading citizens of the world for some 140,000,000 years.

It was not until 50,000,000 years after the last dinosaur had died that the first man appeared on the earth's surface and he wasn't very impressive. Thus, you see that man has had less than one per cent of the dinosaurs' experience, less than a brief million years, and of that he spent all but the last 5,000 in caves. In fact, you might say he has only been out of the caves for a second in comparison with his long night in it, and less than a hundredth of a second compared with the history of life on this somewhat young and foolish planet.

These facts, familiar to every schoolboy, are repeated here just to encourage you in this present dark period in the world's history. There is no reason, when you look back on the dinosaurs, to be discouraged with our progress. We have done better in 1,000,000 years than they did in 140,000,000. We haven't had time yet to find our bearings. Probably we shall need a million years or so to get into our stride, and then we ought to be good for a couple of hundred million, if the earth doesn't cool off.

Yet Mr. Anthony Eden said a few days ago that the year 1937 would mark the turning point in human affairs. What happens in 1937 or 2037 or 10,037 won't matter in the least to the human family. When the race gets into its stride our entire present civilization will seem to the people of that time about as important and as intelligent as the dinosaurs of 140,000,000 years ago seem to us. No man at present alive will be remembered at all. Our period will be regarded as part of man's earlier stages in barbarism, just as we regard man's long night in the caves.

For these reasons the United States' museum out in the bad lands of Utah will serve a useful purpose. People will look at the skeletons of the dinosaurs and realize that these fellows ruled the earth for 140,000,000 years. Then the average American taxpayer will go home and stop worrying about the New Deal and his income tax.

WINTERSET

WINTERSET, the movie exhibited here recently, shows you how the screen has become an art worthy to stand among all the higher arts of the past. By good luck I saw this play on the stage when it first came out a year ago in New York, and it occurred to me then that the movies would never have the sense to put it on the screen. When they did, I expected they would ruin it. Instead, they took the original cast and conveyed perfectly the stark horror of the play.

It is true that they dropped the blank verse which Mr. Anderson put into the play, but probably movie audiences wouldn't have stood for it, or for some of the longer philosophical speeches which reminded you of Hamlet. Also, and this was probably a mistake, they managed to write a happy ending into it where the play killed everybody by gun-fire before the last curtain. "Winter-set" was intended to be a classical tragedy in modern setting and it was too bad to see the hero and heroine saved in the movie.

It is true, also, that they cut out a lot of the revolutionary propaganda of the play. Mr. Anderson's fierce protest against the evils of our social system, but they managed to keep quite a lot of it in. Five years ago you wouldn't have seen the hero of a Hollywood movie demanding that men be given a chance to earn a living, and you wouldn't have seen the Sacco-Vanzetti case, that most appalling of all American judicial farces, dredged up, thinly disguised, to show how the United States courts at their worst, trying a so-called radical.

The movies have trod gingerly in tackling any social problem which might offend the box office or the big interests. They bought Winter-set's warning against Fascism, "It Can't Happen Here," and then suppressed it, evidently fearing that it would annoy some of the boys. But they are coming of age now and after a while may be expected to present things whole, as the other arts have done, holding up a true mirror to life. To their surprise they may find that this is good box-office, too.

AT OTTAWA

PREMIER KING has declined to table in the House of Commons his correspondence with the British government concerning the abdication of King Edward VIII. This is regrettable, but there may be some reason for it. It is to be hoped that Mr. King will give the Commons the fullest information verbally, as he would undoubtedly have insisted on Mr. Bennett's doing, if he were still leading the Opposition.

Some people seem to think there isn't much importance to this matter, since it is now happily closed. No one knows better than Mr. King, the best authority on our constitution and on the general theory of government in Canada, that it is of the greatest importance. The Canadian people have a right to know everything about their imperial connection, about their responsibilities in the Empire, about their relations with Britain, all of which are maintained through the throne. They have every right to know why they have a new King and what their government's attitude was during the removal of the last King.

At ordinary times such things may not touch the average Canadian family very directly, except in an abstract spiritual sense, but the time may come, and soon, when they will alter the life of everybody in this country. If Britain enters a European war, our position within the Empire, as subjects of the King, will be exceedingly important to all of us, whether we are of military age or not. We should know exactly what that position is well in advance, and, in fairness to the British people, they should know also. All this is involved in the mystical but potent institution of kingship, and every Canadian has a right to understand the latest developments in that institution, which concerns his fortune and his life.

ADVICE ON BRIDES

From The Toronto Daily Star
The Bishop of Aberdeen has been advising Scottish schoolboys to seek brides about five feet high. But the right height for a bride is really determined on quite another basis. She should be just three inches shorter than she would be if she were a quarter of a foot too tall.

BACK TO OLIVER CROMWELL

To the Editor:—Though a great admirer of "Old Noll," I cannot go so far as to accept the Thomasonian creed promulgated in your correspondence column on January 8.

Oliver was certainly a mighty man but hardly—no, I fear I am among the heretics.

And has Mr. C. S. Thomas forgotten what Cromwell did to the Throner (to say nothing of its then occupants)? That "institution worn smooth by time" (Sir Oswald Mosley). (See a letter appearing in The Times several months ago.)

Why did not Mr. Thomas quote Cromwell's "Dunbar motto in full"? Was it due to the belated realization that the Young Citizens "powder" is "all wet" beyond hope of doing anything but fizzle?

Your readers would, I am sure, be interested in hearing of a few specific instances of the Young Citizens' League supplanting working men in labor disputes.

My impression is that the "unofficial support of all Christian denominations" that Mr. Thomas hopes is given to the Young Citizens' League is very problematical.

MISSOURIAN.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS UNION MISREPRESENTATION

To the Editor:—Widespread misrepresentation in Canada of the position of the League of Nations Union, London, has brought a protest from Dr. Maxwell Garnett. He says: "There seems to be a large press campaign in the United States and in Canada asserting that the union is in decay that its membership has all but disappeared, that its financial situation is disastrous, that its most prominent members have deserted it, and that it faces dissolution at an early date. Not one of these statements is well founded."

The rumor is false that the union has lost the greater part of its members. "On the contrary, while it is true that there were some 7,000 fewer renewals in the first ten months of this year, that is some 3 1/2 per cent, yet we have to date enrolled nearly 3,000 more new members than we had at this time last year. In all 244,501 subscriptions were paid during the first ten months of this year. The resulting total drop in membership of 4,000, though of necessity it causes us some concern, is insignificant in view of the very large numbers who still remain faithful to us."

The concluding paragraph of his letter is as follows: "Of course, we were all particularly disappointed at the failure of collective action this year and to some it may have seemed in the middle of this summer that the situation was well-nigh desperate. But paradoxical though it may seem, it now appears to be not impossible that out of this failure we may yet reap success and that we may be able even at this late hour to induce our own government to support and prosecute with all its energy a policy that may yet avert disaster and see peace made more secure."

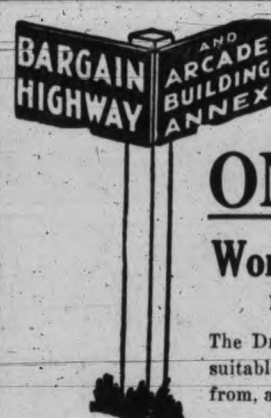

H. G. WEATE.

CANADIAN-AMERICAN TRADE

From The Louisville Courier Journal
The greatly increased trade between Canada and the United States since the reciprocal agreement was entered into between the two countries clearly is attributable to that agreement. During the present year there has been a widespread upswing in commerce, but the upswing in the Canadian-American transactions is considerably greater. For the first nine months of the reciprocal trade agreement Canada's purchases from the United States amounted to $296,000,000, an increase of $93,000,000 over the same period last year. American imports from the Dominion jumped from $204,000,000 to $262,000,000.

During that time Canada's increase in imports from other countries was 10 per cent, while its increase in purchases from the United States was 15 per cent. Likewise, America's imports from other countries increased 13 per cent, while those from Canada showed a 23 per cent gain. Plainly, the reciprocal agreement exerted a marked impetus on the two-way traffic.

Victoria Council Hears Officers of Northwest District at Dinner

Victoria Council, United Commercial Travelers, received strong praise for the part it is taking in the life of Vancouver Island from Roy Brown, grand councillor for the U.C.T. district of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, and R. A. Duncan, team-work director of the jurisdiction, who made an official visit here on Saturday.

Mr. Brown, who is from Bellingham, and Mr. Duncan, from Eugene, Ore., added that such community service was among the main achievements of all U.C.T. councils.

The two district officers were guests of the local council at a dinner in Spencer's dining room on Saturday night. Byron I. Johnson, M.P.P., and Herbert Anselmo, M.P.P., were also guests.

The visitors believed the people of Vancouver Island should be made more conversant with the work done by the U.C.T., which sponsored different causes in each community. In British Columbia the union was studying the possibility of the eradication of cancer and sponsoring a campaign for safer driving. All members were also seeking to insure a fair profit system in business.

The grand council convention will be held in Bellingham on May 20, 21 and 22. Mr. Brown informed the meeting.

Dr. K. C. MacDonald Returns to City

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, returned to Victoria Saturday after attending the convention of the B.C. Fruit-growers' Association at Kelowna and other gatherings of agriculturists.

At Kelowna Dr. MacDonald told the fruit men he was convinced that some form of control over produce marketing was essential in British Columbia and outlined the attempts the government had made to meet the situation.

In New Westminster growers of small fruits discussed with the minister the possibility of getting a marketing scheme.

The minister said he found a more hopeful outlook up-country, especially in the agricultural areas.

Kill that "Common" Cold..

Action is what you need in taking hold of that cold before it takes hold of you. But few of us can afford to be laid up with a cold and have our health undermined through the winter.

When you feel a cold coming on recognize it for what it really is—an internal infection requiring internal treatment.

GROVE'S BROMO QUININE attacks the cold at its source by doing the four necessary things in the prompt and effective treatment of a cold.

1. It opens the bowels gently but effectively.
2. It combats the cold germs and fever in the system.
3. It relieves the headache and "gritty" feeling.
4. It tones up the system and helps fortify against further attacks.

When you feel a cold coming on go right to your drugstore and buy a box of GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Make sure you get Grove's. Start taking the tablets two at a time. Taken in time, GROVE'S BROMO QUININE usually stops the cold within 24 hours.

This is the kind of action you want and get with GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Grove's has been the standard of thousands in the treatment of colds for over forty years.

Single Unemployed Men Create Greater Demand

During December 150 free meals were provided at Sunshine Inn, an increase of 656 meals over December of the previous year. The increased demand is attributed to single unemployed men that have been unable to take advantage of the camps that existed last winter. The total of free meals provided to applicants since the inn was inaugurated five years ago has reached $48,399.

During that time the inn has provided a continuous voluntary service which has been generously supported by all sections of the community who have made the successful operation of the inn possible.

The income from voluntary donations in December has shown a cash surplus over expense amounting to $200.38, as compared to a cash surplus of $219.44 in the same month of the year before. There will be, however, a deficit for the year amounting to $494.40, compared to a deficit of $376.78 in the year of 1935. There were, however, 1,355 more meals provided during 1936.

The cash contributions were as follows: Capt. Thorpe-Douglas, $2. A.B., $3; anonymous, $5; A.M.S., $2; John A. Grant, $5; Mrs. A. T. Goward, $5; anonymous, $5; C.W. Keaper, $2; Senator G. H. Mara, Blake & Co., $5; P.A.S., $2; total of individual cash donations, $482; contributions to gift box in inn, $631; total of cash receipts in December, $488.31.

The donation of commodities for December to the inn were valued at $137.47, and were contributed by: The Palm Dairy, Lloyd Young, R. H. B. Ker, B. Wilson, E. Co., Camousa Bakery, Mrs. Drake's Bakery, Rennie & Taylor, Bakery, W. S. Norington, Bakery; Miss Ogilvie, Commander Slingsby, Capt. Generous service has been rendered gratis to Sunshine Inn by the following: The Red Cross Workshop, Major S. Ostell, The Albion Store, The B.C. Telephone Co., The Works, The B.C. Electric Railway Co., P. Burns & Co., A. and W. Wilson, The Economy Steam Laundry, Harte, Andrews Paint Co., The Atlas, Columbia, Capitol and Dominion Theatres, and The Victoria Daily Colonist and Times.

Voluntary service of meals has been carried out by the following: Mrs. C. Brough, Mrs. J. E. B. Dickson, Mrs. A. McGuire, Mrs. L. K. Moon, Mrs. Anne Sole, Mrs. A. H. Knowles, Mrs. Arthur Hinder, Miss A. Brown, Miss Jean Kay, Mrs. M. L. Kempthorne, Mrs. R. Hanson, Mrs. F. C. Kilby, Mrs. Bertha Wiper, Mrs. C. B. Winter, Mrs. F. W. Taylor, Mrs. G. A. A. Hudson, Mrs. K. E. Gray, Mrs. Phyllis Preston, Mrs. B. J. Gadsden, H. Collings, G. Lee Warner, D. R. Bremner, Frank Ward, and in addition the regular staff have efficiently carried out the routine conduct of the inn in a cheerful and praiseworthy manner.

Measles Cases Continue Here

Little change was seen in the spread of measles in the city during the week, with the number of cases maintaining approximately the same level as those of recent preceding weeks, it was learned at the health department on Saturday.

During the six days starting Monday, forty-two cases have been reported, making a total of approximately ninety since the beginning of the year.

The spread of the disease was no longer as it has been, Dr. Richard Felton said, while advising parents of children suffering from it to avoid development of more serious complications, he expressed the view the illness in its present state and proportions was not grave enough to cause serious worry.

HOW LONG CAN A THREE-QUARTER WIFE HOLD HER HUSBAND?

YOU have to work at marriage to make a success of it. Men may be selfish, unresponsive, but that's the way they're made and you might as well realize it.

When your back aches and your nerves scream, don't take it out on your husband. He can't possibly know how you feel.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with life. E. P. Ham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three critical periods of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife. Take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "smiling through."

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

TRACE SOURCE OF CHILD'S NERVOUS HABITS

There is something horribly fascinating about the nervous habits which children can acquire so quickly. No wonder they attract and hold the eye of the parent and give the child a helpless feeling. So, once the child has acquired a few times by accident, he continues to repeat it, or to shrug his shoulders, or to wrinkle his forehead, or to nibble his nails, sure that he can't help it, that in some way he is the instrument of an uncontrollable power.

Of course this is all nonsense. Where there is one case which has a sound reason for the habit behind it, there are dozens which represent nothing more than a learned habit, which becomes more and more fixed because of the treatment the child receives.

All such habits need to be pointedly ignored. Let the child continue to squint, shrug, sniff or whatnot, but without the inspiration of an audience. Naturally, when the child begins such habits it were wise for the parent to go about quietly informing himself as to ways of increasing the child's general health. It is possible that eyes may need testing, that the child lacks sufficient sleep, is over-tired or under-fed. These are matters which concern all children, not just those with habit ties. But there is one kind of treatment which such children do not need and that is the dozens of suggestions, the demands to stop it, the worried concern which they so often receive.

Habits of this type do stop in just as mysterious and inexplicable a way as they began. If we often the child the opportunity to forget them by forgetting them ourselves.

Just as an aid to helping him forget we may announce that he is better, that he doesn't do it so much any more—that, in fact, we never notice it. That suggestion is one which speeds the improvement.

CRAWLED UPSTAIRS ON ALL FOURS

Owing to Rheumatism in Her Knees

It was not a very dignified way of going upstairs, but she had rheumatism in her knees, and it was the best she could do, at the time. Since then, she has been taking Kruschen Salts, and now feels much better. Read her letter—

"I had very painful gout in my big toe and could only get upstairs on all fours owing to rheumatism in my knees. It is over three years ago since I commenced taking Kruschen Salts. I must say on damp days I still have a little gout, but my knees are quite better. I am over 60 years of age, have a complexion like a girl's and feel very fit. I am full proof for taking a half teaspoonful of Salts each morning in a cup of hot water." (Mrs. A.W.)

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are frequently caused by deposits of uric acid in the muscles and joints. The numerous salts in Kruschen assist in stimulating liver and kidneys to healthy, regular action, and help them to get rid of the excess uric acid which is the cause of so much suffering.

Says Speech Being Corrupted

Music Examiner
Regrets
Canadians "Slipping"

Canadian Press

Toronto, Jan. 18.—C. Egerton Lowe, international examiner of the Trinity College of Music, London, England, says Canadians are slipping, as far as the English language is concerned. He maintains they speak "American," not English.

He describes the lapse as "lip and tongue laziness," but adds: "I'm not complaining, but personally I do think it a pity; English is such a beautiful language, this English of Shakespeare, Milton and a hundred others."

"You are going back," he said on a visit here during the week-end. "When I came here in 1928 it was the exception to find wrong pronunciation of the vowel 'u' and of the short 'a' where we use the broad 'a' but now the Canadian speech is going well on the American side rather than the English side and this makes a difficulty where candidates in our examinations are reciting great English verse or prose."

"Undoubtedly today the language is being corrupted in a great many ways and while I don't like to speak with disrespect about any country, the Americans among themselves have corrupted the English language," he said. "In fact it is not the English language that is being spoken in America today—it is the American."

New York, Jan. 18.—Hats to be worn next spring on The Avenue range from peasant bonnet, shapes to straw visors that look like Dutchmen's caps, and have many new trimmings, including real mushrooms.

There are dyed mushrooms arranged in flower formations on the front of some little straw pillboxes which the inventive hat designer, Lilly Dache, is showing.

The mushrooms are the kind that grow around old trees. A tin "leaf" sewed on with them completes the flower formation.

"This is the most exciting season we have had for years," said one of the designer's assistants. "In addition to mushrooms and metal for trimming, we are using bone, wood and cork."

The idea of using these things came from Salvador Dali's show of surrealist art.

A Breton sailor of shiny brown straw has a brim of cork, similar to the cork used to make floors, and is finished smartly with a green ostrich feather.

Daughters of St. George—The Princess Patricia Lodge No. 238, Order of the Daughters of St. George, met in the E. of C. Hall Friday night. Mrs. H. Graham in the chair. The sick committee reported several of the members confined to their homes through illness. It was decided to hold the birthday banquet Friday, March 5. Mrs. K. Herring, assisted by Mrs. M. Wright and Mrs. H. Tisdale, will be in charge of the affair.

Mrs. E. Burke will make arrangements for next meeting, which will be past president's night. After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. K. Herring.

AT THE TEA HOUR

At the tea hour in the afternoon, the many guests were delightfully entertained by Miss Vivien Combe, who in her own inimitable way sang a number of old Cockney songs, including: "I Couldn't Help It, Could I?" "Now I Have to Call Him Father," "Wot Cha?" "Movie Mad" and "Annie-Boddy's Rooney" (as sung by Vesta Tilley).

The orchestra, under Mr. W. F. Tickle's direction, played selections from "The Chocolate Soldier" (Strauss); "The Waltz We Love" (Vessey); "Naughty Marietta" (Herbert); "No, No, Nanette" (Yousmans); "Blossoms Time" (Romberg); and the tune melody, "Two Guitars" (Horlick).

Toeing Mark for Opera Role

When she sings the Queen in Rimsky-Korsakov's opera, "Le Coq d'Or" at the Metropolitan Opera House, Lily Pons is not going to even try to take the spectacular dance role calls for. Here she is being instructed by Michael Fokine, famed New York ballet master, in the proper steps.

Gossips Annoy Franchot Tone

Associated Press

Hollywood, Jan. 18.—Franchot Tone delivered a verbal rebuff today to Joan Crawford who rumored his marriage to Joan Crawford is fading out.

"It is regrettable that a husband and wife in Hollywood can't be seen in public out of each other's company with guests," said Tone tartly.

With that he explained how he came to attend the Ballet Russe Saturday night with an attractive woman other than Miss Crawford. Because she had been ill with a cold for several days, Joan didn't feel up to attending the ballet, he said.

Modern Etiquette By ROBERTA LEE

Q When a hostess wishes to ask someone to "fill in" at the last hour, isn't it better to pretend that it was through oversight that this person was not invited earlier?

A No, it is always better to be truthful. Your pretension would be believed anyway. Ask some intimate friend by telephone to help you out. The right kind of friend will not refuse.

Q How soon after making a visit or several days should one write the "bread and butter" letter?

A It is preferable to write within two or three days, but in no case should one delay it longer than a week.

Q Isn't it proper to fold the napkin when one has finished eating?

A No. The napkin should be left lying loosely beside the plate.

Strawberry Vale

Strawberry Vale Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. G. Austin, Glen Road, on January 5. High scores were Mesdames H. Hoult, E. Groustare and Mrs. Prece. On January 12 the members were entertained at the home of Mrs. H. Hoult, Wellington Road, with the honors going to Mesdames F. Gorton and H. Pink and Miss G. Riche.

Final arrangements have been made by Wilkinson Road women's auxiliary to hold a night of Scottish music and song in United Church schoolroom Thursday evening, January 21. The programme will include numbers by Mesdames T. Floyd, V. Rush, V. Simpson and Miss Elsie Pryatt and Messrs. Pye, A. E. Campion and Rev. W. Allan. P. Rankine of Victoria, a student of Scottish song, will be narrator.

Ann Harding Is Married Quietly

Associated Press

London, Jan. 18.—Movie Actress Ann Harding and Werner Janssen, symphony orchestra conductor, were married yesterday in the Caxton Hall registrar's office.

The ceremony lasted less than fifteen minutes. The blonde actress' seven-year-old daughter by her first marriage to Harry Bannister of Hollywood was among the few witnesses.

Clive Brook, well-known British actor, served as Janssen's best man. Ann, wearing a small, black hat and silver fox cape, blew a kiss to a group of photographers and said, "God bless you," when they assented to her request to snap but one posed photograph.

Janssen, son of a New York restaurateur and guest conductor of the New York Philharmonic in 1935, arrived first and alone in a taxicab. He wore formal morning dress.

The bride and her daughter, Jane, arrived in a big limousine. Snowing often, Ann explained to the photographers with a smile "I've got the flu."

The ceremony was performed by Registrar J. O. Bond. Janssen had called Brook last midnight, having decided to wed at once when news of the romance leaked out yesterday.

After the wedding the couple drove off with Jane. Friends said they were going to Brighton, where Miss Harding's show opened today.

Colin Mouat Is Re-elected

Associated Press

Ganges, Jan. 18.—Salt Spring Island Young Men's Association held their annual meeting and banquet at the Ganges Inn last week, about fifty attending. At the business meeting which followed the dinner, encouraging reports were presented by the president, Colin Mouat, and secretary-treasurer, Cyril Wagg. Election of officers for 1937 was as follows: Hon. president, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King; president, Colin Mouat, re-elected; vice-president, Wilfred Hillier; secretary-treasurer, Mervyn Gardner; committee, E. Borsdale and Alan Cartwright.

An address was given by W. M. Mouat, president of the Senior Salt Spring Liberal Association, who took as his subject "The Life of the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King."

SALT SPRING FUNERAL

Ganges, Jan. 18.—Services for the late Alfred Ralnes were held Friday afternoon from St. Mary's Church, Fulford, the Rev. C. H. Popham officiating. The hymns "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Abide With Me" were sung. Interment was made in St. Mary's burial ground, the pall-bearers being Messrs. G. E. Akerman, R. Maxwell, F. Reid, J. Cairns, M. Gynes and W. Furness.

KEATING

South Saanich Farmers' Institute have postponed their January meeting from the third Thursday in the month to the following Thursday evening, January 28, on account of a municipal meeting in the Temperance Hall on January 21.

J. Terry will address the farmers on poultry. Election of officers will take place and annual reports given.

South Saanich Women's Institute held a wool bee in the Temperance Hall last Wednesday. Arrangements were made to hold the first monthly meeting of the new year in the Temperance Hall on Thursday afternoon, January 21, at 2.30 o'clock.

One source said special shoes had to be made for the cows so they wouldn't scratch the floors.

The beverage cow, a life-size fake resembling a grammar-school health exhibit, boasted four taps in its side from which will flow champagne, wine and beer. They didn't expect anybody to get past the champagne tap, anyway.

Peden And Audy Finish Second In Cleveland Bike Grind

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

ENGLAND'S showing in the first three cricket tests in Australia provides an effective reply to the critics who, early in the tour, were suspicious of the touring team's strength. As the two countries prepare for the fourth of the five scheduled tests to be played at Adelaide, January 29, the Mother Country has a decided advantage with two victories against one loss.

Marked superiority in all departments of the game has been shown by the touring squad, winner at Brisbane in the opening encounter by 322 runs and again at Sydney by an innings and 22. The third test, played in Melbourne, saw the Antipodeans triumphant by 365 runs after nearly six days' play.

Gilbert Allen, Australian-born Middlesex amateur, has won enthusiastic acclaim for his clever captainship of the English eleven. Only once has he been outsmarted in the battle of wits with Don Bradman, Aussie skipper. Even then it was rain more than anything else that wrecked his plans in the third test.

In these days of play-to-a-finish tests, Allen's decision to make the Aussies follow on after they had been dismissed for a first-innings total of 80 in the Sydney test brought chills to the critics on the sidelines. And this despite England's lead of 346. But "Gubby," as the English skipper is known to his intimates, knew the merits of his bowling staff. Bradman and his colleagues were put out for 324 runs in five of the tourists an innings' victory.

Forced to bat on a sticky wicket at Melbourne, Allen threw caution to the winds and instructed his men to hit out in an effort to get the Aussies in for their second innings before the pitch improved. It was a risky ploy and England was 124 runs in arrears on the first innings. Bradman made an effort to set the Englishmen's plans awry by sending in his tail-end batsmen to open the innings. England's bowlers were practically unplayable and with more than an hour left for play it looked as if the Australians would be dismissed cheaply. One wicket was lost with only three runs on the board and then the rain came down to put an end to England's hopes. The wicket improved over the week-end and the Aussies went on to score 564 runs and win the match.

Led by Wally Hammond and Maurice Leyland, veterans of many international encounters, England has shown the way to its opponents in the matter of batting. The former, aided by a fine 231 not out at Sydney, has compiled 339 runs in five innings for an average of 84.75. His Yorkshire colleague made two separate centuries to bring his total runs in the three tests to 329 for an average of 80.22.

Although he has two "ducks" recorded against him, Bradman made 408 runs in six innings to lead Australia's run-getters. His spectacular 270 at Sydney stands out as the highest score of the present series to date. J. H. Fingleton, the Commonwealth's outstanding defensive player, has an average of 59.83, compared with his captain's 67.17, a total of 359 runs for six times at bat.

England has yet to find an opening pair of batsmen of the calibre of Jack Hobbs and Herbert Sutcliffe, heroes of a few years ago. Allen has experimented with Charles Barnett, Gloucestershire, T. Worthington, Derbyshire, and A. E. Page, Kent. Only the former performed up to expectations and there is little doubt that R. E. S. Wyatt, Warwickshire captain, will be brought in as the Gloucestershire partner at Adelaide. He has been on the injured list for weeks.

Kilian and Vopel Take First Place On Sprint Points

Victoria Redhead and Injured Partner Grouped With Leaders in Mileage

Winter-Ottevaire Take Third Money

Cleveland, Jan. 18.—Gustave Kilian and Heinz Vopel won the six-day bicycle race which closed here last night.

Three teams were tied in distance covered but Kilian and Vopel took the honors with the greatest total of sprint points, 1,486.

Second were the Canadians, Torchy Peden of Victoria and Jules Audy of Montreal with 1,237, and third, Charlie Winter and Freddie Ottevaire with 766.

Audy raced the last two days with an injured collar bone suffered in a spill on the sharply banked turn. He had it tightly taped and rode on with his usual brilliance.

The team of Jackie Sheehan and Henry O'Brien was broken up last night when O'Brien's attack of influenza developed a temperature of 104 degrees. Dominic Camastra then also withdrew and his partner Tino Reboli teamed with Sheehan to finish the race.

Canada Takes Squash Trophy

Montreal, Jan. 18.—Canada held the Lapham Cup, emblematic of international squash supremacy, today after a great drive from the brink of seemingly sure defeat that was capped by a win for Horace Lewis, Toronto, against J. Fred Rogers, Buffalo.

An American victory in the fourth match, deadlocking the competition at 7-7, set the stage for what proved the deciding contest between Lewis and Rogers, the Canadian winning 11-5, 15-12, 12-15, 15-6, 15-9.

The Victoria was Canada's fourth in sixteen years of competition. The United States has won eleven matches and England one.

New Northwest Baseball Loop

Vancouver Will Be Represented in Western International League

Seattle, Jan. 18.—Under the banner Western International, instead of the Evergreen League, organized professional baseball will return to six cities of this region starting April 27.

Delegates, meeting here yesterday decided to change the name to Western International at suggestion of Con Jones, Vancouver, B.C., to show the cross-border character of the new class C circuit.

Vancouver, Spokane, Yakima, Lewiston, Idaho and Tacoma were represented at the parley and advice were received from Bellingham that groups there are interested but were unable to attend the meeting.

The schedule will close Labor Day and will include 120 games.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

WAR TANKS

For centuries the idea of devising some sort of mobile fortress whereby their men could advance under protection and strike at the enemy was uppermost in the minds of military leaders. The recorded history of armed vehicles dates back as far as 1200 B.C., but until the World War none was armored enough to resist gunfire had been utilized. The development of caterpillar tracks has finally made the "tank" possible.

Working under strict secrecy, British engineers developed a machine that looked like a cross between a prehistoric monster and an over-sized bug. But weird and clumsy as it appeared, the vehicle was to be one of the most powerful forms of fighting machines the world had ever known.

Several of them were immediately shipped to France, packed in crates plainly labeled "Tanks" to hide the true nature of the shipment. The name stuck.

On September 15, 1916, the first tank advance took place. Forty-nine of the machines attacked the German lines on the Somme, a complete surprise to the enemy. While many defects were displayed by the vehicles in their first engagement, they proved themselves to be a formidable fighting force. Later models used in the war were a potent factor in the triumph of the Allies. Modern "greyhound" tanks have become an essential part of the up-to-date army.

Sam Snead Winner In Oakland Golf

Youthful Pro From West Virginia Heads Grass Field in $5,000 Tourney With 72-hole Score of 270; Ralph Guldahl Is Second

Oakland, Calif., Jan. 18.—Pocketing $1,200 and the title of Oakland open golf champion, Sam Snead, West Virginia, headed for greener fields along the winter golf tournament trail today.

The twenty-four-year-old shot-maker, only three years in the pro ranks, won his first major tournament here yesterday when he posted a seventy-two-hole total of 270, two under par, to top a large and formidable field over the Claremont course. He fired a 69 in the opening round, followed with a scintzing 65 and finished with 69 and 67.

Snead, born in Hot Springs, Virginia, and now pro at the Green Brier Club at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., learned his golf during an eight-year caddyship stretch. Last year he won the West Virginia open and the state's P.G.A. championship.

OTHER SCORES

Two strokes behind Snead, claiming $750 as the runner-up's share, was lanky Ralph Guldahl, Chicago, one of the prime favorites of the season after victories in the recent August and Miami opens.

Veteran John Revolta, Evanston, Ill., took third place with 274. Craig Wood, New York; Henry Picard, Hershey, Penn.; John Rogers, Denver, and John Perall, Tahoe, Calif., were deadlocked at 275.

VARSITY WINS GREAT BATTLE

Beats Province 38 to 36 to Creep Closer to Lead in Mainland Basketball

Vancouver, Jan. 18.—University of British Columbia's fighting Thunderbirds climbed to within half a game of taking over leadership of the Inter-City Basketball League here Saturday night, as a basket by Henderson, in the dying second of the game, gave them a 38 to 36 victory over the league-leading Province squad.

In the first game of the double-header program, Munroe continued to hold their mathematical chance of reaching third place in the standings before the playoffs, by whipping the lowly Ryerson squad, 47 to 12.

Province pulled away to a six-point lead in the first ten minutes of the game. Varsity managed to tie the score once in the first half, but the breather found Province leading by six points, 22 to 16.

Varsity tied the score again with five minutes to go in the second half and took a one-point lead for the first time on a free throw. Province rallied quickly, however, and took the lead again, only to have the Thunderbirds tie it up with less than ten seconds to go. Henderson tore down centre and hooped the winning basket for Varsity just before the whistle.

VINES DEFEATS PERRY AGAIN

Scores Second Straight Tennis Victory Over Briton 14-12, 6-2, 6-1

Detroit, Jan. 18.—Ellsworth Vines defeated Fred Perry in straight sets, 14-12, 6-2, 6-1, before 6,500 spectators here Saturday night, to draw within one match of evening the count in their professional tennis tournament.

The extended first set decided the match. Perry never was able to make his shots count after the tall Californian took the lead in the twenty-fifth game, and then broke through the former amateur champion's service for the set.

Vines, who lost three successive matches to Perry before his first victory at Pittsburgh Friday night, was in full control of his ground strokes and frequently manoeuvred Perry out of position for fast placements. After some difficulty with his service, Vines started to place it with regularity, in shots difficult for Perry to handle.

Vines and Barnes combined to win a doubles exhibition from Perry and Lott, 7-9, 6-4, 4-3, the third set being called because of the late hour, as the seventh game concluded just before midnight.

Oakland Wins Over Portland

Scores 1 to 0 Victory in Pacific Coast Hockey League Game

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 18.—By a score of 1 to 0, Oakland Clippers tipped over the league-leading Portland team in Saturday night's Pacific Coast hockey game here.

The third-period goal advanced Oakland from third place in the league standing to within half a game of the second-place Vancouver team.

After two scoreless periods, in which most of the play was in front of the Portland defence, Aubrey Webster, Oakland's winger scored on a pass from defenceman Bill Hutton.

Hutton had skated down the Portland right wing and into a corner, where he stopped quickly and backhanded a pass out in front. The Webster waited. He stickhandled through one defence man and batted the puck to the right of goalie Aitkenhead.

The score was made a little short of eleven minutes of the period.

Referee Pete Sand did not call a major penalty, although sticks were carried high during most of the game.

St. Aidans Win Over St. Albans

A one-sided victory and a pair of close battles were seen in Sunday school basketball league games played Saturday night at the Y.M.C.A. gym.

St. Aidans defeated St. Albans, 18 to 14, in a junior play-off fixture to secure a four-point lead. The second game of the total-point contest will be played next Saturday night.

Canadian Scottish took over second place in the intermediate section when they defeated the Chinese Students, 43 to 29. The Crescents emerged with a 32 to 23 decision over the Maroons.

Hector Alexander refereed. The teams and scores follow:

St. Albans—Woodburn 3, Coates, McCormack 8, Komey 3, Caulfield 2, Peebles 1, Howell and Parfitt total 14.

St. Aidans—Manton 2, Bell, Bennett 6, Kitchen, Newman, Watson 6, Minnis 4, total 18.

Chinese Students—B. Mar 10, Lowe 11, Chan 2, Lang 2, Nagl 2, J. Mar, Yuen and Chow 2, total 29.

Canadian Scottish—Lewell 9, Fair, McCall, Whyte 12, Mylrea 12, Purdy 5, Friker 5, and Martin; total, 43.

Crescents—Beers 10, Hartley, Robertson 5, Leonard 8, White 5, James 4, and Horne; total, 32.

Maroons—Smith 8, Cummings 6, Fields 6, Ball 3, L. Fuller and R. Fuller, total, 23.

Saanich Soccer League Meeting

A meeting of the Saanich and District Football League will be held Thursday evening in Alex's Hall, Burnside Road, at 7.30 o'clock. All teams in the league are asked to have two delegates present as the business to be discussed will be of interest to all clubs.

On Friday night in Hampton Hall the Pitzer and Nex football club, which is one of the top-rating squads in the league, will stage a dance. Dancing will start at 9 o'clock and the public is invited.

COLWOOD GOLF The following were the winners of the half year eclectic competition at the Colwood Golf Club ending December 31. A class, C. E. Brown 58, less 8 net 50; B class, H. H. Livsey 59, 14 net 45.

M.C.C. to Sponsor Tour of Dominion Next Summer, Hon. R. C. Matthews Announces; Plan Matches From Coast to Coast

Canadian Press Toronto, Jan. 18.—Marking an important step in the development of cricket in the Dominion, a team of English players will visit Canada next summer. Announcement was made here yesterday that the Marylebone Cricket Club, governing body of the sport in England, had decided to send a strong eleven late in July. Cricket authorities here hope the tour will be of sufficient duration to permit a coast-to-coast itinerary.

Announcement of the M.C.C.'s decision was made by the Hon. R. C. Matthews, chairman of the Canadian Cricket Advisory Board. While no details regarding the personnel of the visiting team or its itinerary have been decided to date, there is little doubt it will be the strongest eleven that has ever visited the Dominion. The tour will extend through August and negotiations are under way to make it even longer so the team may visit the west.

Decision of the M.C.C. to sponsor such a tour followed the splendid showing made by Mr. Matthews' Canadian cricket team in England last summer. The Canadians, the most representative team the Dominion has ever sent away, played fourteen matches, of which seven were won, one lost and six drawn.

CREATED GOOD IMPRESSION Their strength in all departments of the game created a distinct impression among English cricket authorities and discussions regarding the feasibility of a return tour took place at that time.

The visit will be made under the auspices of the Canadian Cricket advisory board now planning a tentative schedule pending receipt of information regarding extension of the tour. Simultaneous announcement of the tour was made in London.

M.C.C. elevens last visited Canada in 1905 and 1907 but the visits were confined to Eastern Canada and comparatively few matches were played. In later years other teams, sponsored by the M.C.C., have played in the east and the United States.

KIMBERLEY IN 41 VICTORY

Touring B.C. Hockey Champions Defeat Leading Team in Germany

Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, Jan. 18.—Kimberley Dynamiters yesterday defeated the Rieserssee Hockey Club 4 to 1 in the rink where last winter Canada, surrendering its Olympic championship to Great Britain.

Scorers for the Allan Cup squad were Ralph Redding, Harry Robertson, Gordon Wilson and Fred Botterill. The British Columbians scored twice in the first period and once in the second and third. The German club scored in the last period.

About 5,000 spectators, including Balduv von Schirach, head of the Hitler youth movement, saw the game, first for the Canadians in Germany since they returned from a tour of Czechoslovakia and Austria.

Rieserssee Hockey Club recently defeated the Berlin Skating Club, Germany's hockey champions.

Detroit Continues Championship Play In Major Hockey

Shutout Chicago To Gain on Idle New York Rangers

Aurie and Barrie Score in 2 to 0 Win; Boston Whips Americans

Record Crowd At Montreal

In the affections of their French-Canadian supporters at least, Montreal Canadiens are once again the great team that flashed along the hockey trails in their great days six and seven years ago. There is little argument in Montreal today that they are Stanley Cup material in 1937 as they were in 1930 and 1931.

And no wonder. The collection of old men which Babe Siebert was supposed to be holding together went out without the great Babe Saturday night and tossed Montreal Maroons for a 5 to 0 loss before 12,300 persons, the largest crowd that has seen a game in Montreal for five years.

Siebert was on the injured list but Bill MacKenzie took his place and the veterans were performing so well up front he wasn't missed. Maroons never had a chance against the Habitués except in the first few minutes of the game.

The victory shot Canadiens into a six-point lead over Maroons and they have played one game less than their rivals. It's the same lead the world champion Detroit Red Wings have over New York Rangers in the National League's American division.

POOR OLD HAWKS

Detroit took advantage of Rangers' week-end idleness to grab two points by beating Chicago Black Hawks 2 to 0 in Chicago last night and Boston Bruins moved up to within a point of Rangers by defeating New York Americans 3 to 0.

Maple Leafs won the other week-end game by taking Hawks 3 to 2 in overtime at Toronto Saturday.

Canadiens were so much better than Maroons that at times Netminder Wilf Cude skated across the goalmouth for minutes at a time to keep warm. The Habitués did all their scoring in the first two periods.

Veteran Aurel Joliat opened the scoring in the first period and Tuo Blake got another in that session. Then MacKenzie scored twice in the second and George Brown got the other.

Marty Barry and Larry Aurie, Detroit's high scorers, continued their rivalry for point honors at Chicago. Each got a goal and kept their tie for first place.

Hawks might easily have done better with a little luck at Toronto, too. Sylvanus Apps, rookie centre, scored two of Toronto's goals and Nick Metz got the winning one in the third minute of overtime. Glenn Brydson and Mush March scored for Chicago.

Boston scored one goal in each period against Americans. Hockey Smith marked up the first. Conney Welland got the second and Leroy Goldsworth rang up the third.

Summaries follow:
CANADIENS-MAROONS
First period—1, Canadiens, Joliat (Mantha, Gagnon), 13:52; 2, Canadiens, Blake (Haynes, Deslats), 19:42. Penalties: Gagnon, Mantha, Evans.

Second period—3, Canadiens, MacKenzie (Brown), 6:45; 4, Canadiens, Brown (Busswell, Gagnon), 7:55; 5, Canadiens, MacKenzie, 15:35. Penalties: Carlson, Conacher.

Third period—No scoring. Penalties: Trotter, Deslats, Mores.

TORONTO-CHICAGO

Second period—2, Chicago, Brydson (Kelly), 9:04; 3, Chicago, March (Trudell), 12:16.

Third period—4, Toronto, Apps (Metz-Devoson), 15:31. Penalties: Siebert, Jackson, Levinsky.

Overtime period—5, Toronto, Metz (Kendall-Hamilton), 2:09. Penalty: Levinsky.

BOSTON-AMERICANS
First period—1, Boston, Smith (Goldsworthy), 12:57. Penalties: None.

When Football Is Real Tough

Papuan Players Use Sport to Engage in Tribal Warfare; Players Armed With Knives, Broken Bottles, Razor Blades, etc.

Port Moresby, Papua, Jan. 18.—Possibility football might become a forbidden sport in this mandated Australian territory was foreseen today after district police reported the football death rate among natives was higher than in the old tribal wars.

Investigating a recent match at Rabaul, police found seven players armed with knives, seventeen with broken bottles, nine with razor blades, and others with stone clubs, wood sticks with sharpened points.

The match began with the orthodox twenty-two players, but after thirty minutes, despite the fact that a dozen warriors were already lying injured on the field, the number had increased to fifty-seven.

Prohibition imposed by administration officials on tribal warfare left warriors with recreation, police said, but when football was introduced, rival tribes found it an excellent substitute.

When Billy Townsend and Billy Lee meet in their ten-round bout at the Tillium gym on Thursday evening it will be the "rubber" engagement between the two welterweights. They have met twice in Vancouver and the count stands one victory apiece. Lee took the decision on their first meeting, with Townsend reversing the nod in the return match.

There will be an added incentive for the boys when they meet here; as Promoter Jack Allen has promised the winner a bout with Allan Poston in Vancouver on February 3.

In his last appearance in Victoria on New Year's Day Townsend took his second straight decision from Dusty Jones, Seattle negro. That fight saw Townsend show up well and he is expected to enter the ring favorite over Lee.

During 1936 Lee lost only three fights, a fine record. He dropped a decision to Gordon Wallace, was beaten by Midnight Bell and lost the call to Townsend. In his bout with Bell and Wallace, the Phil Indian was forced to give away plenty of weight.

WORKS TONIGHT
Tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Tillium gym Lee will work out for the benefit of Victoria fans. He will return to Vancouver on the midnight boat and arrive here for the fight on Thursday afternoon. Townsend is not expected here before Thursday.

In the semi-windup Thursday, Frenchy Beaudin, Edmonton scrapper who has appeared on several local cards, will return to meet Ray Lusscombe, former Vancouver battler now resident here. They are scheduled to go six rounds.

Harry Miller, Alberni, will fight again, this time against Tim Keist, Victoria boy attempting a comeback. This bout is also slated to go six rounds. Miller engaged in a couple of rousing scraps here against Beaudin.

The show will get started at 8:30 o'clock.

OWENS RATES FOUR PLACES

Fills Top Spot For Many Events in U.S. All-star Track Team of 1936

Associated Press
New York, Jan. 18.—Once again emphasizing Jesse Owens' position as last year's premier United States track and field athlete, Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, yesterday named Ohio State's Olympic sprinter and broad jump champion to four positions on each of his All-American and All-College teams for 1936.

Holder of five world records and co-holder of another, Owens was listed as the outstanding United States performer in the 100 and 200-metre dash, 200-metre hurdles and the broad jump. The fleet negro, now a professional, holds the international marks at 100 yards, 200 metres, 200 yards, 200-metre and 220-metre hurdles and the broad jump. In addition he has bettered the 100-metre record several times with the aid of a tail wind.

EQUALS TWO OTHERS
Only two other athletes ever have galloped four places on Ferris' All-American, selected for Spalding's Athletic Almanac. Willie Ritola was listed for the two-mile steeplechase and the five, sixteen and fifteen miles runs in 1927. Loren Murchinson placed number one in the sixty, 100, 200 and 300-yard events in 1923.

Indiana's Don Lash, the country's foremost two miler, ranked second to Owens in number of events, being rated best of United States athletes at 5,000 and 10,000 metres and the cross country run.

TOURISTS' COMMENTS
Visitors from U.S. Capitol Disappointed at Not Seeing "Mounties" Here; General Effect of Victoria One of Dinginess and Lack of Paint, Says Washington, D.C. Tourist; Oklahomans Give Impressions of Vancouver Island.

"Regret we did not see any 'Mounties' in Victoria," said a U.S. tourist who motored here with a party of three all the way from Washington, D.C. in reply to a questionnaire sent out by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

Other questionnaire comments received from the District of Columbia follow:
"Did not find Victoria as English as we expected. We stayed in your city five days at a cost of $42.50."

"Found the honesty and wholesomeness of your people pleasing. Think highways and road signs could be considerably improved."

"Came on the recommendation of friends, arriving one day and leaving the next. Enjoyed the baggage reception and think Victoria is a pleasant place in which to live. The ferry cost us $12.05 and other expenses amounted to $32.25."

"There were two and a half in our family. We stayed three days at a cost of $25."

"The general effect of Victoria is one of dinginess and the need of house painting, but the gardens are a joy."

"Only in Victoria ten hours, and spent the time in Esquimalt."

Here is what Oklahomans have to say about Victoria and Vancouver Island:
"Friends in Oklahoma City urged us to come to Victoria, and we greatly enjoyed the trip."

LOCAL BRANCH WINS TROPHY

Island Office of North American Life Leads Production Increase For 1936

The first in the west to win the cup, the Vancouver Island office of the North American Life Assurance Company under the management of J. W. Hudson, will receive the General Manager's Trophy symbolic of leadership in production increase for 1936 over all other North American Life Assurance Company agencies in Canada.

Mr. Hudson has received letters from D. E. Kilgour, Toronto, general manager and E. J. Harvey, Toronto, superintendent of agencies congratulating him on his achievement.

For the 1936 showing and for previous production, the head office officials had high praise. They complimented Mr. Hudson for having completed over twenty-five years of service in the insurance business.

For the last twenty-two years he has been in charge of the Vancouver Island office and is one of the three biggest production men in the company, sharing that achievement with three eastern representatives.

Individual miniature cups will be presented to the three leading producers in the Island agency, Mr. Hudson, Alan C. Butcher and Alfred Dendoff. Other members whose successful work contributed to winning the grand prize are Col. D. B. Martyn, C. F. Smith, J. Roydon Morris, C. W. Lovell, J. H. Taylor, T. H. Carey, A. A. Quinn, Miss M. A. Russell and Miss G. I. Durkin.

New Bishop Here For Easter Week

Ottawa, Jan. 16.—Rev. John C. Cody of Eastview, a suburban municipality, will be consecrated here as Bishop of Victoria on February 25. It was announced today.

The thirty-seven-year-old pastor of the Church of the Holy Trinity has been in hospital since last Monday when his appointment as bishop was announced. He is recovering from influenza and a throat ailment.

Bishop J. H. MacDonald, recently named co-adjutor Archbishop of Edmonton, said this morning he would probably leave for his new diocese early in March.

He expected the new bishop would be installed in St. Andrew's Cathedral, as Bishop of Victoria, in time to participate in the Easter season ceremonies.

DROPS DEAD ON KINGSTON STREET

John Graham, 329 Kingston Street, an elderly man, dropped dead shortly before 2 o'clock today while walking along Kingston Street, near Montreal Street, according to a city police report.

City police and Dr. Richard Pelton were summoned. It was reported Mr. Graham was apparently the victim of a heart attack.

CONVICT FAILS TO WIN APPEAL

Court Sends Man Convicted of Incest Back to Serve Term

Two appeals of James Stuart against convictions on charges of incest, were dismissed by the B.C. Court of Appeal this morning.

Stuart was sentenced to two terms of three years, running concurrently, by Magistrate H. S. Wood in Vancouver Police Court on November 4.

Appearing in person today, the appellant sought to establish the fact that the two children, girls of fourteen and sixteen, respectively, upon whom the acts were allegedly committed, were not his children, although they were the daughters of his wife.

In the first case called, he attacked evidence of the crime given by the younger daughter. There was no corroborative evidence, he said.

He was told by the court that such cases did not require corroborative evidence.

SHOULD HAVE BOOKS
 In moving for the dismissal of the appeal, Chief Justice MacDonald stated the appellant had not followed the correct procedure. The court was not supplied with appeal books and could only form its judgment on the trial judge's statement. It was anomalous, the Chief Justice said, that while the Parliament of Canada had made provision for the engaging of counsel for the appellant in cases in which the appellant was without funds, that it did not provide for the preparation of appeal books.

When a prisoner without means came before the court to protest his innocence in such instances, he had only his word to offer.

Mr. Justice Martin stated the court had been given the magistrate's statement and a copy of the court proceedings in the case at bar. He moved for dismissal, saying that while corroboration was not required, there was evidence at the trial of a nature to be construed as corroboration of the daughter's statement.

DIFFICULT WITHOUT BOOKS
 Mr. Justice McPhillips expressed regret over the absence of appeal books and the resultant inability of the court to check and follow evidence closely.

Mr. Justice M. A. MacDonald stated the court had the original evidence before it and that was sufficient to justify conviction.

Mr. Justice McQuarrie affirmed the remarks of the Chief Justice regarding the practice of having appeal books for all judges. He found difficulty in arriving at an understanding of the appellant's grounds for appeal, but moved for dismissal.

In cases as grave as incest in which the evidence was not long, Mr. Justice McPhillips said, he thought the Crown might furnish transcripts.

H. S. Coulter, appearing for the Crown, stated he had asked the Attorney-General to provide transcripts and had secured four, two of which he had sent on to the court and two of which had been retained for each counsel.

NEW DRAIN WILL BE CONSIDERED

Consideration of a drainage project for Beacon Hill Park which would relieve the Heywood Avenue storm sewer, is expected at tonight's City Council meeting when the report of the public works executive is submitted.

The work, it was learned today, would provide employment for from twenty to twenty-five men each week during the construction of the project.

The executive will recommend to the council the construction of a sidewalk on the Gorge Road for the blocks between Washington Avenue and Carrol Street and from Carrol Street to Balfour.

Each day during the Catholic Church Octave, January 18 to 25, the Very Rev. Paul James Francis, Minister General of the Atonement Priory and originator of this octave, will broadcast a sermon appropriate to each day's intention. He will speak over station WHN, New York, and AAB, Boston, at 10:30 a.m. P.S.T.

Off to England to Man Replacement Destroyer

Bluejackets from Esquimalt—121 strong—are shown in the above picture, lined up on the Belleville Street dock yesterday afternoon before marching aboard S.S. Princess Charlotte on the first leg of their journey to England, where they will man one of the replacement destroyers taken over recently by the Canadian Government from the British Admiralty. They will go to Chatham. The men who left yesterday will sail next Saturday from Halifax aboard S.S. Montclair for Liverpool. They are in charge of Lieut. H. V. W. Gross, R.C.N., accompanied by Lieut. MacDuff, R.C.N.R. They will return here on one of the new Canadian destroyers in the late spring.

Ker, Reginald Hayward, R. J. Jameson, G. E. MacDonald and E. B. Wilson.

Farm Population Limit 1,000,000

Dr. J. F. Walker Reviews Natural Resources of B.C. Before Gyros

A vision of British Columbia with a population of 20,000,000 people was discounted today by Dr. J. F. Walker, Deputy Minister of Mines, who declared there was not enough agricultural land to directly support more than a million people.

Dr. Walker who reviewed the natural resources of the province before the weekly luncheon of the Gyro Club in the Empress Hotel said that the total arable land of British Columbia was 18,000 square miles and not all this was good land.

The total area of British Columbia was 366,255 square miles and the present population 700,000. This was divided roughly into a rural population of 300,000 and an urban population of 400,000.

The rural population cultivated 5,500 square miles of land. As the rural population of Canada had been relatively stable, Dr. Walker could not see more than 1,000,000 people cultivating the total arable land in the province.

As far as timber was concerned about 40 per cent of the area of British Columbia was suited to forests. Over 200,000 square miles was unsuited to timber. The latest survey showed that 33,500 square miles or 15 per cent of the province was in commercial timber while 94,000 square miles was in young growth.

SUITABLE FOR MINING
 Dr. Walker said that about 75 per cent of the province was "not unsuited to the discovery of mineral products." A great part of the province was therefore only suited to mining.

Agriculture was a permanent asset, Dr. Walker said, and its population was limited but stable. Forestry could be made a permanent asset but again the number of people dependent upon it was limited. Mining was a wasting asset.

"The only way we can build up the population of British Columbia is to have industries dependent upon the natural resources of the province," Dr. Walker declared.

The mineralogist reviewed the potential possibilities of each area of British Columbia, pointing out that aside from the northeastern corner which belonged to the great plains, the whole of the province lay in the western cordillera, the system of mountains along the western coast of North America.

Angus McIntyre, president of the club was in the chair. Len Woodhouse thanked the speaker.

It was announced that an evening meeting of the Gyros would be held in Spencer's dining-room on February 1.

McCann, of Queensland. The remains will be conveyed tomorrow morning from the E. J. Curry and Son Funeral Home to the family residence, Shelbourne Street. Rev. T. G. Griffiths will conduct funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Aidan's Church, and interment will be in the family plot at Colwood Burial Park.

 W. HARDWICK HAS RESIGNED
 Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Walter Hardwick today announced his resignation as treasurer of the British Columbia Amateur Basketball Association. Ken Walton, secretary, has assumed the additional office of treasurer.

In a letter to McTaggart Cowan, president of the B.C.A.B.A., Hardwick said he elected to resign from the provincial body owing to differences with the Amateur Athletic Union.

MME. KOSCHE DIED SUNDAY

Pioneer Hairdresser Succumbs at Age of Seventy-nine Years

Mme. Hulda Kosche, pioneer hairdresser of Victoria, passed away yesterday at her home, 822 Craigflower Road, aged seventy-nine years.

Mme. Kosche was the widow of Karl Kosche. She was born in Brunswick, Germany, and came to Victoria forty-three years ago. For many years she conducted a women's hairdressing establishment in the Balmoral block. She retired from business about twenty-five years ago.

She leaves no family, but is survived by nephews and nieces in San Francisco. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

FILM SOCIETY IS UNDER WAY

A temporary executive committee with power to proceed with the formation of a Victoria branch of the National Film Society was appointed at a tea meeting attended by sixty persons at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Formation of the branch will get under way immediately, and it is hoped that a membership of between 300 and 400 will be reached in time for the opening of a half-season in February. Under present plans it is expected five pictures will be shown during the months of February, March and April. The regular schedule calls for ten showings during the winter season.

A telegram was received yesterday from the secretary of the national society in Ottawa saying that a petition seeking permission to form a branch of the society here had been accepted by the board.

The committee elected yesterday is as follows: Chairman, H. J. Davis; vice-chairman, Dr. H. M. Cassidy; secretary, Harry Hickman; members, Miss Ruth Humphrey, Mrs. G. M. Weir, Mrs. E. W. Hetherington, Mrs. A. W. Mackenzie, Kenneth C. Drury, Dr. D. M. Duncan and Dr. Kaye Lamb.

 OBJECTS EXPLAINED
 The work of the national society was outlined to the meeting by Dr. Cassidy. The first objective, he said, was to arrange for the showing of important pictures of all nationalities, not normally presented commercially. The showings would be to members only. Another aim of the society was to encourage the use of motion pictures for educational purposes.

The marked success of the Vancouver branch of the society was stressed by Mr. Hickman. During the year since its formation, he said, membership had grown to over 1,000. The committee appointed yesterday will meet within the next week and expects to announce the plans of the local group in greater detail.

Tea was poured previous to the meeting by Mrs. Weir and Miss Jeannette Cann.

Victoria West Church Sound

The annual congregational meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, was held recently with a good attendance. The pastor, Rev. James Hyde, presided and Mr. Howard Davis acted as secretary.

The session report was given verbally by the session clerk, George McCandless, who stated that at present the membership of the church was 150.

The pastor expressed his belief that the church was in a very fine condition, thanks to the support of the congregation, but that there was a great need for teachers in the Sunday School.

N. Arnot, treasurer, presented a satisfactory financial statement. Owing to the generosity of members and friends who were present the deficit which showed on the books at the end of the year has been entirely wiped off and the church was looking forward to a much better year both spiritually and financially, he reported.

The following members were elected to the Board of Managers for a term of two years: N. Sloan Sr., N. Arnot, D. Dickson, Alex Stewart and Hugh Sloan. The following members have one more year on the board before their terms expire: Fred R. Arnot, N. Sloan Jr. and Howard Davis.

The Sunday school report read by Miss Rita Rodger, showed the total enrollment, including teachers, officers, scholars and cradle roll department, 165. The need of Sunday school teachers was again brought to the attention of the congregation.

Encouraging reports were also presented by the Ladies' Aid Society, Women's Missionary Society, Young Women's Auxiliary, Junior Women's Missionary Society, Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. Mr. Hyde expressed gratification with the work in the C.E. especially thanking the president, Miss Rita Rodger for her faithfulness.

Other reports were the C.G.I.T., Marion McRae Mission Band, Gledon Bay's Club and the choir.

Mr. Hyde expressed praise to the choir leader, A. Hearty, for his continued interest and to Fred Arnot, organist and choir leader. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered George McCandless for auditing the books of the various organizations of the church.

The meeting closed with the congregation singing the Doxology after which Mr. Hyde repeated the Benediction.

During the evening musical selections were given by Mrs. I. Boughiey and also the Gledon Boys' Club.

After the meeting the members of the congregation adjourned to the hall, where tea and refreshments were served by the Ladies' Aid Society.

The monthly meeting of Post No. 1, Native Sons of British Columbia, will be held in Knights of Pythias Hall, Broad Street, tonight at 8 o'clock.

Theft of his car from outside Metropolitan United Church yesterday morning was reported to the city police by Victor Gill, 987 Tattersall Drive.

Cars driven by Frank M. Turley, 318 Newport Avenue, and James McNaught, 707 Linden Avenue, were badly damaged in a collision at Yates and Cook Streets on Saturday afternoon, according to a city police report. There were no personal injuries reported.

Britain Soon May Pay on War Debt

Visit of Runciman and Niemeyer to Washington Believed to Indicate Some Type of Settlement and Trade Pact

By R. H. HIPPELHEUSER

Associated Press Staff Writer
New York, Jan. 18.—With war debts entwined in the broader question of trade and international monetary stabilization, it is believed in well-informed circles the British government is prepared to make a settlement on its debt to the United States.

This belief has gained strength with the visit of Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, President of the British Board of Trade, and Sir Otto Niemeyer, a director and financial expert of the Bank of England. Mr. Runciman will arrive here tomorrow. Sir Otto is en route.

It is further believed likely that, if a settlement is made by Britain, France would quickly follow.

As payment dates have passed with default after default—the British debt is now $76,000,000 in arrears, with accrued interest—the question has become not only one of debt settlement, but also is related to monetary stabilization, together with the possibility of a reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and Britain.

AT WHITE HOUSE

Informed persons believe Mr. Runciman is empowered to discuss these questions with Washington officials, if not to open formally negotiations on stabilization and a trade pact.

He will spend next week-end as a White House guest, but President Roosevelt said his visit was personal. They are old friends.

The conclusion of a reciprocal trade pact with Britain would be regarded generally as a major accomplishment of the tariff programme of Secretary of State Cordell Hull. It was felt certain by some New Yorkers close to the administration, however, the United States government would first insist on a settlement of war debts.

STABILIZATION PLANS

According to these persons, negotiations between the United States and Great Britain might be threefold, including, after the settlement of debts, an agreement on stabilization and the conclusion of a reciprocal trade pact.

The reciprocity pact with France has been in effect for some months. The French government, of necessity, would have to enter into any stabilization agreement of far-reaching consequences.

Canadian Press from Havas
London, Jan. 18.—The London Times today expressed the hope the forthcoming "friendly unofficial talks in the White House" between Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, and President Roosevelt "will clear the air and will be followed in due course of serious negotiations toward an Anglo-American trade agreement."

"Such an agreement," The Times said, "would not only be of the greatest importance in itself but would set an example which might well prove decisive for world recovery."

Chief discoveries during 1936 in the field of physics are listed as follows:

One of the fundamental forces of nature—the binding energy between the cores of two hydrogen atoms—was measured by Drs. M. A. Tuve, N. F. Heydenburg and L. R. Bateman, Carnegie Institution of Washington.

First synthesis of a naturally occurring radioactive element was achieved in atomic bombarding experiments on formed into another when Dr. George Packer Berry, University of Rochester School of Medicine, produced in rabbits fatal cases of the tumor disease, myxoma, by injections of killed and bismuth by Dr. J. J. Livingood, University of California.

Experimental evidence for the existence of the neutrino was found in research on cadmium, tin, indium and tellurium isotopes by Dr. Kenneth T. Bainbridge, Harvard University.

Particles of 11,000,000 electron-volt energy for use in atomic disintegration experiments were produced by Prof. E. O. Lawrence, University of California.

A high efficiency radio oscillating circuit said to have usefulness in television, radiotherapy, extremely high voltage X-rays and for experiments in atomic disintegration was developed by Dr. William Hansen, Stanford University.

Experiments with radio waves only six inches long which travel along hollow tubes were simultaneously announced by Dr. G. C. Southworth, Bell Telephone Laboratories, and Dr. W. L. Barrow of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A long-lived artificial radioactivity of a beryllium-aluminum alloy with a half life of at least ten years was discovered by Dr. Edwin McMillan, University of California.

The lightest solid ever made by man or found on earth was produced in the form of a light isotope of lithium by Dr. L. H. Rumbach, Bartol Research Foundation.

Polaroid, a cheap polarizing transparent material which will eliminate the glare of night driving and also make possible three-dimensional color motion pictures, was introduced by the Land-Wheelwright Laboratories of Boston.

Improved measurements of the magnetic moments of the proton and deuteron were made by Dr. I. I. Rabi of the physics department of Columbia University.

New types of nuclear disintegration

By WILLIAMS

Intense audible sounds were made to produce light in four different liquids by Dr. L. A. Chambers, University of Pennsylvania Medical School.

A fortress of science, partially underground, in which experiments on atomic disintegration will be performed, was projected by the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

To supply musicians, piano tuners and instrument makers with a standard pitch "A," the National Bureau of Standards broadcast this musical note for two weeks continuously on short wave radio.

A compact 1,000,000-volt electrostatic type generator was installed at Huntington Memorial Hospital, Boston, to produce radiation useful in cancer therapy.

Improved measurements of the magnetic moments of the proton and deuteron were made by Dr. I. I. Rabi of the physics department of Columbia University.

tions produced by cosmic radiation were discovered through the investigation of Dr. Carl Anderson and Dr. Seth Nedemeyer, California Institute of Technology.

A test for tool-resisting prison bars by use of a small magnetic instrument was developed by A. L. Sanford, National Bureau of Standards.

Seven hours of treatment with intense sound will see whisky go amount equivalent to four years in the wood, reported Dr. J. A. Chambers, University of Pennsylvania.

A simple and rugged receiver of infra-red radiation was invented by the veteran Boston electrical engineer, Dr. Hammond Vinton Hayes.

A belated scientific finding from the 1935 stratosphere flight of Stevens and Anderson was the announcement that neutrinos exist at altitudes of twelve miles in a report of Drs. L. E. Rumbach and G. L. Locher, of Franklin Institute's Bartol Research Foundation.

First rigorous proof of an extension of the long-puzzling "Waring problem" in mathematics was reported by Prof. L. E. Dickson, University of Chicago.

New value for the charge on the electron (4.80x10-10) electrostatic units was announced by Kolletrop of Upsala on the basis of improved oil drop technique and agreeing within one part in 5,000 of the best value obtained by X-ray measurements.

First complete X-ray analysis of the atomic arrangement of an amorphous substance (glass) was obtained by Prof. Bertram Warren of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

An absorption spectroscopy capable of measuring a concentration of 1/10,000 of one per cent of carbon dioxide in air was developed for plant growth researches by Dr. E. D. McAlister of the Smithsonian Institution.

The uncertainty principle of physics, which opposes the concept of determinism, was extended to include psychology by Prof. Niels Bohr, physicist of Copenhagen.

Because of the way doses of glandular secretions change behavior, Dr. Roy G. Hoskins, Harvard University, proposed that "chemical conditioning" should be accepted as a new psychological principle.

Size of a social group has an important effect upon the tendency of an individual to dominate, the weaker one of a pair often becoming dominant in a larger group, Dr. A. H. Maslow, Columbia University, found from study of monkeys.

Chimpanzees can be taught to use gestures and vocalization to solicit aid from another animal in a co-operative task, Dr. Meredith P. Crawford, Yale University, found.

Rudimentary, or undeveloped, speech centers were found in the brains of the three highest apes—orange-utan, gorilla, and chimpanzee, by Dr. Cornelius J. Connolly, Catholic University of America.

Seven primary elements of human intelligence were named by Dr. L. L. Thurstone, University of Chicago, as number facility, word fluency, visualizing, induction, memory, perceptual speed, and verbal reasoning.

The functioning of attitudes in human conditioned reactions makes learning thereby a very different process in human beings from what it is in animals, Dr. G. H. S. Ransan, Columbia University, concluded.

Capacity for mental work is impaired at an altitude of 17,500 feet, Dr. R. A. McFarland, Columbia University, found, as a member of the International High-Altitude Expedition to Chile.

A mathematical genius of the lightning calculator sort was produced from an ordinary college student by giving him seventy-five hours of practice and special training by Drs. Samuel Renshaw, William C. Schwarzbach and Otis D. Knight, Ohio State University.

English Picture At the Columbia

One of the most amusing films produced this year is now being shown at the Columbia Theatre. It is "The Private Secretary," Sir Charles Hawtrey's famous farce which was made at the Twickenham Studios in England with Edward Everett Horton in the title role. The story of the timid clerk who becomes involved in a series of amazingly funny adventures following his first visit to London to take up the post of private secretary to a wealthy man, provides first-class screen material and will keep any audience in a state of happiness throughout the showing of the film.

"The Scarlet Letter" starring Colleen Moore, is the second feature.

"Dodsworth" At Atlas Theatre

Walter Huston and Ruth Chatterton head the cast of Samuel Goldwyn's screen version of Sinclair Lewis' "Dodsworth," which comes to the Atlas Theatre today.

Huston again plays the title role of Sam Dodsworth, the easy-going American husband, in which he scored on the stage for more than two years, and Miss Chatterton has the role of Fran, the pretty, frivolous, selfish wife whom he adores.

Sidney Howard, who wrote the stage adaptation, is again author of the screen play, which is enacted by a great supporting cast including Paul Lukas, Mary Astor, David Niven, Mme. Maria Ouspenskaya, Gregory Gaye, Odette Myrtil, Kathryn Marlowe, John Payne, Spring Byington and Harlan Briggs. Mme. Ouspenskaya and Gregory Gaye repeat the roles they created in the stage version.

"Craig's Wife" Opens Tomorrow

One of the most dramatic, moving and intelligent stories to come to the screen in some time, is "Craig's Wife," which will be at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow. A picturization of George Kelly's Pulitzer Prize play, it has lost none of the intensity and depth of that stage success. With Rosalind Russell in the title role, and John Boles as Craig, "Craig's Wife" will hold its audiences transfixed from start to finish.

Miss Russell, who has played only comedy roles on the screen heretofore, joins with the difficult assignment of portraying the unsympathetic, relentless Harriet Craig, and emerges victorious on all counts. She gives a dramatic performance that will match any on the screen this year.

With Jimmy Dunn and June Gauthier in the leading roles, "Two Fisted Gentleman" is the second feature at the Dominion Theatre.

Fred MacMurray At the Plaza

Romance, intrigue and excitement are the themes of "Thirteen Hours by Air," the new Paramount drama which opens today at the Plaza Theatre.

Fred MacMurray and Joan Bennett play the leading roles in the film with Zasu Pitts, John Howard, Bessie Bartlett, Grace Bradley, Alan Baxter, Brian Donley, Ruth Donnelly and Fred Keating heading the supporting cast. It is based on a magazine serial by Bogart Rogers.

Enchanting music, spectacular dance routines set in backgrounds of unprecedented splendor, a pageant of the world's greatest entertainers headed by Jack Benny, and an intriguing story all combine to make "Broadway Melody of 1936," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's most ambitious musical extravaganza, the screen's outstanding eye and ear entertainment of the year.

This picture is being shown at the Oak Bay Theatre today. Nova Pilbeam and Peter Lore are starred in "The Man Who Knew Too Much," which is the second feature.

CAPITOL THEATRE

That peculiarly rhythmic tapping sound which is heard all over town today is merely the echo of Eleanor Powell who once again clinches her title of The World's Greatest Feminine Tap Dancer in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer musical spectacle, "Born to Dance," which is being shown at the Capitol Theatre today.

Miss Powell, who first won acclaim from critics and film audiences alike in "Broadway Melody of 1936," is a delight to behold, a pleasure to listen to and a tremendous treat to lovers of dancing in any form.

Tarzan And The Leopard Men

When Tarzan recovered consciousness, he found his body gripped by a deadly, wild, just completing the act of dragging him up. Not knowing how well he had done the job, he strained against his bonds and the mighty surge sent the pygmies flying in all directions.

The cords held fast, and the little men began to argue whether he should be slain now or later. It was decided to wait, for there was no time for a feast. The recent mysterious events had made them nervous. Tonight every warrior must be on guard against attack.

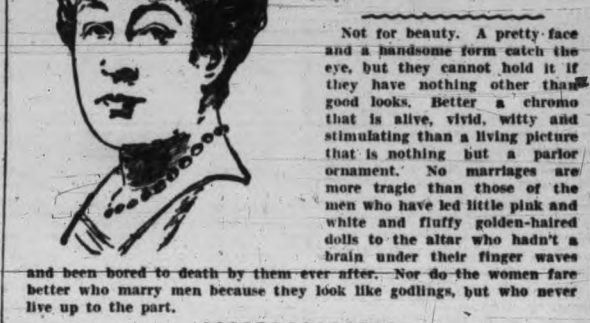

High in a tree, Nkomo hugged himself in grief and terror, principally terror, for the little monkey thought more of his own plight than that of his master. He was convinced that, without Tarzan, disaster would soon overtake him in this strange forest.

Now a score of the pygmies half carried, half dragged their Jungle Lord was the hapless captive of a people who, despite their miniature bodies, were as cruel and merciless as any tribe of giant savannah.

Dorothy Dix

WHAT SHOULD PEOPLE MARRY FOR? Not for infatuation. Not for mere physical attraction. Not for a love that cannot justify itself. Not for the infatuation that makes a middle-aged man divorce a good wife to marry a gold-digging flapper, or that makes a girl wreck her life by marrying a drunkard or a ne'er-do-well. Infatuation is the madness of a moment. It does not last. Passion dies of satiety and then nothing is left but dead ashes on a cold hearth and the bitter memory of folly.

Not for beauty. A pretty face and a handsome form catch the eye, but they cannot hold it if they have nothing other than good looks. Better a chronicle that is alive, vivid, witty and stimulating than a living picture that is nothing but a parlor ornament. No marriages are more tragic than those of the men who have led little pink and white and fluffy golden-haired dolls to the altar who had a brain under their finger waves and been bored to death by them ever after. Nor do the women fare better who marry men because they look like godlings, but who never live up to the part.

Besides, those who marry for beauty are bound to lose in the end, because good looks do not last. Time takes its toll of even the fairest. It turns the most lustrous locks gray; it withers the smoothest cheek; it turns the most lissom figure into a feather bed or a telephone post, and who then so unattractive as those whose attractions have only been of the flesh? No figure more pathetic than Miss America after she has begun to dye her hair and have her face lifted, unless it is the tubby old grandpa wheezing along on his cane who was once a matinee idol over whom the girls went crazy.

Not for money. Connubial bliss is not sold over the counter, and one of the things that money cannot buy is a happy marriage. Poor boys and girls hungering for luxuries and good times do not believe this. They think that if they had closets full of good clothes; if they could live in palaces and speed about in fine cars and rush around from winter resort to summer resort and have all the money they wanted to spend, they would be perfectly happy, no matter if the price they paid for all these good times was being married to men and women old enough to be their grandparents, or to dullards, or selfish tyrants, or even to those so physically repugnant that their touch made them sick.

But, alas, they soon find out that mere possessions can pall upon you; that you can cease to get a thrill out of a new frock when you have too many clothes already; that you cannot bring the appetite to an everyday feast that you brought to an occasional good dinner; that a house in which there is no love is not a home, no matter if it is a palace. No marriage is happy, as you can see by watching the hard faces of the women who have sold themselves for money and the cowed look of the men who have to go to their wives for pocket change.

The only thing to marry for is companionship. That is the only thing that is the real, genuine, blown-in-the-bottle guarantee of domestic happiness. The only thing that keeps marriage from being just an endurance test and turns it into a joyous and thrilling adventure is for a husband and wife to be so congenial and so interested in each other that they can spend fifty years together without ever talking out or boring each other.

It doesn't matter whether a woman is pretty or homely, whether she is brilliant or just-so; it doesn't even matter whether a couple is rich or poor, if they have the same tastes and habits, if they enjoy doing the same things, if they like to read the same books and go to the same movies, they will be happy together. They will be good company for each other; they will never have a dull and sullen moment together and they will never be running away from home to find some one who "understands" them.

It is a pity that young people put so little stress on this matter of companionship when they are picking out their husbands and wives. For it is the thing that counts most in making marriage a success. If only instead of asking does he or she thrill me and raise my blood pressure boys and girls would ask: Does he or she entertain me and keep me from yawning; if only instead of considering how much money he or she has, they would ask what sort of a line of conversation does he or she possess; if instead of looking for soul mates they picked out some one who had the same politics and liked the same kind of pie that they did, there would be mighty few divorces.

Lumberjacks and Their Work

1—FORESTS AND LUMBER CAMPS

Nine hundred million acres of woods and forest. This is an estimate of the ground covered by trees on this continent. The number of acres is equal to almost one and a half million square miles.

After the managers of a lumber company decide to cut a certain forest or stretch of woodland, men are sent to the region to plan the work. The path of a roadway into the heart of the woods is marked out, and also the site of the lumber camp.

Crews of workers cut down trees to make the roadway, and to build cabins. In many parts of the United States and Canada, it is the custom for lumberjacks to get their camps ready in the autumn, and to live in them all through the winter—far from any city. Winter is a good time to work because logs can be placed over runners, and hauled across snow-covered grounds.

The work is hard, and often the weather is very cold. In some places, the lumberjacks find the temperature going down as low as 40 to 50 degrees below zero.

More yellow pine is obtained from North American forests than any other lumber. Next to yellow pine comes the wood of the Douglas fir. A good-sized Douglas fir may supply enough lumber to build a ten-roomed house. Other important lumber trees are the yellow poplar, the oak, the ash and the cypress.

Commutation For Atma Singh

Associated Press

Shanghai, Jan. 18.—The death sentence from which Atma Singh, Sikh member of the British police, escaped when a snapped rope saved him on the gallows, was commuted today to life imprisonment.

The British embassy announced the commutation. The Sikh, who was to have died for the hatchet slaying of a fellow policeman, will finish his days in a jail in his native India. Officials said Atma Singh's neck was stretched two inches when he underwent the "terrible jerk" as the rope broke. They said he was recovering from minor injuries and his neck was slowly contracting.

Czechoslovakia has started construction on its tallest building, fifteen-story structure.
